

BRIAND ASKED AGAIN TO FORM PARIS CABINET

Veteran Statesman Re-news Efforts to Restore France to Political and Financial Stability.

DOUMERGUE FEARS SOCIALIST REIGN

Preference Given by French President to Concentration Cabinet of Moderate Views.

Paris, November 26.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, former premier, tonight was making his second effort of the week to constitute a cabinet to succeed the Poincare ministry which resigned Sunday.

The failure of former Premier Herriot to form a cabinet, made known to President Doumergue this afternoon, brought the crisis back to the point where it was at the beginning of the week. The president, before seeking a fourth cabinet maker, conferred again with the parliamentary leaders, and then applied to M. Briand to step into the breach again and prevent the situation from going from bad to worse.

Finds Situation Different.
M. Briand, who was minister of foreign affairs in the Poincare cabinet, found the situation quite different from when he tried to make up a ministerial combination early in the week. The socialists had, in the meantime, by their maneuvers forced President Doumergue to call on M. Herriot, and it was discovered that he had made it impossible for M. Herriot to succeed in forming a government.

The experiments remaining to be tried were a socialist cabinet or a concentration government, which would be formed regardless of the socialist vote in the chamber. A good many radicals and some of the more moderate parliamentarians advised that the socialists be given a chance to show what they would do in power.

It was thought the venture would last only a few weeks, when the situation would be cleared of socialist obstruction and a stable government could be formed.

Experiment Too Dangerous.
President Doumergue decided, however, that the experiment was too dangerous and would be likely to bring further depreciation of the franc, disorganization of the country's finances and further tangle of the political situation. He gave preference to the idea of a concentration cabinet and called M. Briand again, after consulting with the radical leaders as to the possibility of rallying the radicals to a union of parties that would eliminate the socialist influence.

Although preferring to take second place—that is, minister of foreign affairs—in a cabinet combination, M. Briand consented to make another effort. The general opinion tonight is that, if he chooses to rely on a majority composed of radicals, republicans of the left and other moderate parties, he will be able to form a government that will last long enough to untangle the financial and political situations.

Big Lobby Forming To Force Approval Upon World Court

STRICT DISCIPLINE IN PARTY PLANNED BY G. O. P. LEADERS

Ostracism of Extreme Insurgents in Coming Congress Will Be Attempted by Regulars.

PATRONAGE LASH WILL BE WEAPON

Serious Trouble Ahead Seen If Effort Is Made To Discipline Moderate Progressives.

Washington, November 26.—Administration leaders in the house and senate are undertaking to enforce in the coming session of congress a regime of strict party discipline, with a degree of firmness unequalled since the efficient Cane-Aldrich-Penrose triumvirate made life miserable for republican insurgents.

In both houses, the determined purpose of the republican leadership is to inflict the severe punishment of party ostracism on the extreme insurgents of the La Follette group, who are not subject to the less severe tricks of discipline which are sufficient for more tractable insurgents.

Longworth To Be Strict.
In the house, Longworth, who will be the new speaker, is expected to do much toward restoring that post to the power and prestige it held under Champ Clark, though his friends do not expect him to approach the ruthlessness of "Uncle" Joe Cannon. The first act of discipline probably will be the delaying of committee assignments until after the tax bill is voted upon. If this plan is adhered to, republicans will vote against the bill at their peril. Disasters need not be surprised to find themselves restricted to membership on the committee for disposition of useless papers. Last spring there was a disposition to exclude all of the La Follette progressives from important assignments until after the tax bill is voted upon.

Mad Cat Slain After Biting Woman Owner

Newspaper Man Ends Animal's Career Before Arrival of Officers.

A raging mad cat, which insisted on biting its owner, Mrs. Elsie Dishroon, of a Hightower street address, and every other living thing on which it could fasten its tusks, Thursday was shot by a reporter.

As patrolmen paced their beats and call officers awaited in readiness for some anticipated emergency, a call from Mrs. Dishroon peeped up the "force" and sent a cordon rushing to the scene of what was termed a wholesale biting expedition launched by the feline.

By the time officers arrived the cat had carried his alleged death venom past several houses in the neighborhood and Emory Wildrip, newspaper man, whipped out his artillery and ended forever the march of the cat when he sent a bullet crashing into its brain.

The hero of the target practice, with the assistance of several call officers, then amputated the head, which will be sent to the state examiner to determine whether the brain was diseased with rabies. Mrs. Dishroon was taken to her family physician and her wound cauterized. She said she noticed the cat was acting "strangely" and when she tried to pick it up, it resisted and retaliated by biting her several times on her arm.

Federated Council of Churches Plans To Aid Drive To Compel Senate To Vote Adherence.

NATIONAL FIGURES LEND ASSISTANCE

Borah Leading Forces of Opposition To Plan. Lenroot and Swanson Claim Victory.

BY ROBERT D. LUSH.

Washington, November 26.—Plans virtually have been completed for one of the greatest lobbies since the historic League of Nations fight—the attempt this winter to force the senate to sanction American adherence to the world court.

The first maneuver of the forces representing millions of American women and men which will swoop down on the capital in December was announced Thursday by the Federated Council of Churches. During the first three days of December this organization, which has long advocated American participation in the international court, will sponsor a "national study conference of churches and world peace."

Representatives of 27 denominations, including the Roman Catholics, will gather at an open forum meeting to present their views on the international problem which probably will stir the country as has no question of foreign policy since the senate debates of the League of Nations.

National Figures Are Delegates.
Many nationally-known figures, both clergymen and laymen, are included among the list of delegates to the church conference. This meeting, influential as it may be, will be a preliminary skirmish to the greater offensive, which will continue until the question of adherence is definitely settled.

Practically all of the large women's organizations will stage demonstrations in the capital before December 17, the date set for the raising of the question in the senate. Various methods of bombarding the members of the upper house with propaganda have been announced. Parades will be staged, discussion meetings held, and pickets and lobbyists posted.

However, the world court propagandists will not find it clear sailing in their attempts to promote the program which both Harding and Coolidge have opposed.

CHEST WORKERS GATHER TONIGHT

Amount Subscribed Today Will Be Announced At Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

All workers who are to participate in the general campaign of the Community Chest will gather at the chamber of commerce at 8:30 o'clock tonight for the dinner meeting, which will launch the drive to complete the $686,000 for the chest.

About 500 business and professional men will suspend their own business for a while each day during the coming week to give their time and energy to the chest campaign. These will include men who have taken an active part in previous chest campaigns and who have been called together again this year by Eugene R. Black to help put the chest over the top.

Announcement will be made at the meeting tonight of the amount collected today for the 1926 chest, as the result of the work of the "big gifts" committee, the groups committee and the neighborhood campaign. This work has been very satisfactory, according to chest officials and leaves a smaller amount to be raised in the final stage of the drive than in either of the previous two years of the chest.

Robert L. Foreman, chairman of the general campaign, has completed the organization of his forces, and after the dinner tonight an intensive drive will be put on in an effort to fill the chest by the end of the first week in December.

Treasury Will Take Fight To Courts To Avoid Re-payment of Taxes Paid By Corporations.

TREASURY EXPECTS FLOOD OF DEMANDS

Estimates of Refunds Reach as High as $250,000,000 if Treasury Loses Case Upon Appeal.

Washington, November 26.—(AP)—By refusing to acquiesce in a decision of the board of tax appeals, the treasury has set in motion machinery expected to produce a court fight as important as that in which the supreme court held stock dividends exempt from federal income taxation.

The board's decision, reached in the case of the Guaranty Construction company, of New York, overturned a practice of the bureau of internal revenue in computing invested capital of corporations for assessment of excess profit.

Hundreds of Millions Involved.
While obviously no accurate figure could be calculated as to the amount of money involved, it was everywhere admitted that should the board's view be upheld refunds running into several hundred million dollars would be required on taxes illegally collected between 1917 and 1921.

In the Guaranty case, the board found that "surplus" at the beginning of any taxable year may not be reduced in computing invested capital over a period of several years, even by treasury officials, but when its scope was recognized it was immediately determined to take the question into court. Just when legal proceedings will be initiated, however, has not been determined.

Thousands of Returns in Doubt.
The board's decision brings into question thousands of corporation tax returns. In the years 1917 to 1921, most corporations reported a surplus, under the working purchases of this and foreign governments, and after hostilities had ceased, purchases were made of surplus property.

The treasury was compelled to make refunds of about $70,000,000 in the stock dividend case, and Acting Commissioner Nash, of the internal revenue bureau, believes the refusal of the board to allow the surplus deduction for taxes presents the likelihood of greater refund demands. A private accountant has estimated that the refund may reach $250,000,000, but on this official figures are unable to agree.

Expect Flood of Demands.
In any event, the treasury expects to be flooded with demands for refund of taxes paid on the basis of the board's decision. Such a decision will also give the internal revenue bureau a precedent which has never before been approached.

CLOUDY WEATHER DUE IN ATLANTA SAYS FORECASTER

More cloudy and rainy weather is predicted for Atlanta and the state today and Saturday in the Washington forecast. "Partly cloudy with rain on the coast and colder in the interior," the forecast reads.

The temperature Thursday reached 60 for the maximum while 54 degrees was the lowest registered. There was 24 inches rainfall.

How Atlanta Was Named.

Finally and definitely it is proven in Dr. Sam Small's "My Story of Atlanta," which starts in Monday's Constitution, how, why and by whom Atlanta was named.

This is only one of many questions concerning the early growth and history of Atlanta, which have been debated for many years, which are definitely answered for the first time in Dr. Small's volume.

Few southern writers have ever lived who had a more forceful style of writing than Dr. Small. His lectures and his articles have made his name known from one end of the country to the other. In his "My Story of Atlanta" he has produced a manuscript which would have made him famous if he had never written anything else.

It tells things that will make native-born Atlantans proud because they are of Atlanta—and new citizens also proud because they have chosen Atlanta. Don't miss the first installment in Monday's Constitution.

AUBURN TIGERS TIE TECH, 7-7, AS ALABAMA CRIMSON TIDE DEFEATS GEORGIA BULLDOGS

CRIMSON CINCHES CONFERENCE TITLE BY 27-0 VICTORY

Bulldogs Fight Stubbornly But Faultless Attack of Tide Overwhelms All Efforts To Score.

KAIN IS GREATEST STAR FOR GEORGIA

Hubert, Gillis and Buckler Score Most Points With Smashing Attack Through Bulldog Wall.

BY HOWARD E. PILL.

Birmingham, Ala., November 26.—(Special).—Alabama's Crimson Tide, surging along with powerful swells, swept over its banks Thursday afternoon and is virtually assured of its second consecutive southern conference championship. The Georgia Bulldogs, the final obstacle in the path of the Big Red Wave, were caught up in the undertow and deposited in the wake of the crashing flood. The score was 27 to 0.

Today Alabama sits atop the world and the conference. The crimson-shirted lads have completed a season of seven conference games with a brilliant offensive splurge, at the same time keeping inviolate their final white stripe. Only once did the Bulldogs bore deep into Alabama territory Thursday, and when this lone march was halted, the Tide swept on to win up its conference schedule without having once been forced to line up under its goal sticks.

The Georgia machine failed to come up to what had been expected of it and the Tide, power though it was, lacked the luster it has displayed on former occasions. Alabama, however, took a quick lead and was able to go about its work with less strain. The superiority of the Tuscaloosans was marked from the first minute on and the scrap took on a one-sided appearance following the initial Crimson tally in the first quarter.

Georgia was unable to register a single first down during the entire first half, their plays being usually smeared by the hard-charging Crimson wall before the black-jerseyed backs could reach the scrimmage line. During the first two periods Alabama had some four scoring chances, only two of which were made good. The Georgia defense at times rose to heights inhaling the bull-like rushes of the great Hubert and the slashing drives of Red Barnes. It was only this dogged plugging that kept Georgia from a slaughter before the game was half over.

Hubert and Gillis Shine.

Playing their final game, Pooley Hubert and Grant Gillis stood out in the Alabama triumph. Hubert, cool and calculating, directed his team deftly through the Georgia line throughout the four quarters, while Gillis, who was a double-dose of arsenic to the Bulldogs in 1923, came back Thursday to administer another huge helping of

Stuffed With Turkey, Atlanta Spends Thanksgiving at Home

RAIN MARS DAY, BUT "EATS" SAVE SITUATION

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

All stuffed with turkey, all full of dressing and gravy until they could barely wobble, and after a day of drizzling rain and the blasting of hopes for afternoon outings, Atlanta citizens hibernated Thursday night in a satisfactory but not scintillating aftermath of Thanksgiving day of the good year 1925.

It was a great day for indoor activities around the festive and indigestive board, but it was a bad day for sitting in concrete stands, chasing golf balls over soggy greens, spooning under the drip of the oak and pine trees, and pumping up tires on country roads.

Enthusiastic and ardent supporters of Tech and Auburn took charge of the downtown business section during the greater portion of the day, but the steady drizzle seemed to dampen their spirits, and beyond the wild shriek of a super-fan now and then, Old Man Rain won a complete and overwhelming victory.

Kids of all kinds—big kids, little kids, curly-headed kids, lean kids, fat kids, grinning kids, dirty-faced kids, crying kids, fighting kids, howling kids, blue-eyed, black-eyed, green-eyed and cock-eyed kids—at in the morning, ate at noon, ate in the early afternoon, ate in the middle of the afternoon, ate in the late afternoon, ate at dusk, ate just after dusk, ate in the early night—and at last reports still were eating.

Early returns from drug stores reported the usual hurried calls for castor oil, and numerous kids were sent off to bed earlier than usual to sleep off the eating debauch.

Religious services were held practically at all churches. St. Fort McPherson celebrated with a big Thanksgiving dinner, with many military notables as guests and with each soldier allowed one pound of turkey. United States hospital No. 48 also enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner and Tech Displays Stronger Drive in First Half But Auburn Braces in Final Periods.

WYCOFF SCORES JACKET COUNTER

"Pea" Green, Tiger Half-back, Nabs Pass to Account for Six of Auburn's Seven Points.

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

The spectacle of a glorious courage that brought the light of certain of Auburn's warriors from under the bushel unfolded itself on Grant field Thursday as the Tigers, who suffered reverses after reverses until 10 days ago, came back at Georgia Tech, fang and claw, and scored, in the last period for a 7-7 tie result.

Tech mustered every ounce of its energy in its third quarter and Captain Douglas Wycoff crashed his way past Buckshot Williams to Tech's lone touchdown. Tech kept up the fight in the last period, but a baffling series of short forward passes after a blocked punt had given Auburn the ball in Tech territory saw Pea Green, Tiger halfback, cross Tech's last white line. It was inspired football and it would have been a sorry story if Buckshot Williams' toe failed him in that kick from placement to tie Tech's score, brought to seven points by Ivan Williams' placement kick after Wycoff's touchdown.

Game Closes Season.
The game brought to a close one of Tech's best seasons. The record for Tech this year includes victories over Oglethorpe, V. M. I., Florida, Penn State, Vanderbilt and Georgia. Tech has lost only to Notre Dame and Alabama. The tie with Auburn is the only tie game Tech has played this season.

Six Tech men finished their collegiate football career with the Auburn game. They were Captain Douglas Wycoff, halfback; Alternate Captain Walt Godwin, guard; Gus Merkle, end; Wallace Forrester, guard; Ivan Williams, quarterback, and Six Carpenter, tackle.

Tech had the ball the greater part of the 60 minutes; Tech suffered 30 yards less from penalties than did Auburn; Wycoff outpunted Pea Green on the average by six yards, and Tech made 18 first downs to Auburn's six first downs, but in the last quarter when Tuxworth was sent in to general the Auburn crowd and called for forward passes, short, snappy

Trade Commission Minority Scores Action of Majority In Denying Access To Files

Declares Ruling Makes Commission Sanctuary For Corporations Violating Anti-Trust Law.

Washington, November 26.—(AP)—Commissioners Thompson and Nugent of the federal trade commission tonight made public their objection to a majority decision refusing to give the attorney general access to records and files which had been voluntarily delivered to it during an investigation without the "express consent" of the respondent involved.

The dissenting commissioners contended that the ruling, which was effected January 16 and has been followed in a number of cases, was against the public interest, not warranted by any provision of the federal trade commission act and tended to hinder, delay and defeat the ends of justice.

The vote establishing the ruling was taken when the then Attorney General Stone asked for access to certain records concerning the Aluminum Company of America, in which Secretary Mellon was a stockholder, given to the commission during the investigation of household furnishings industries asked by the senate. The Aluminum company was charged in the commission's report with holding a "monopolistic position" and with having "apparently engaged in various practices forbidden by a judicial decree under the Sherman act."

The dissenting opinion quoted one of the majority members of the commission as saying in a speech at St. Louis that the ruling was adopted to let the "business men of the country know that when we ask them for information, such information is for us alone" and "we want them to understand that hereafter the federal trade commission is not going to be a sort of smelling committee or a detective agency for any other department of the government."

The objection to the ruling, the dissenters asserted, was that "it gives, in large measure, immunity from prosecution to, and makes of the commission a place of sanctuary, a haven of refuge for, every company, corporation and association in the country which violates sections 1, 2 or 3 of the Sherman act and, when investigated by the commission, delivers to it all incriminating evidence in its files."

BOOSTER CLUB FORMED BY CARROLL CITIZENS

Carrollton, Ga., November 26.—(Special).—Over 100 Carrollton business and professional men were present at a banquet at the Carrollton High school building Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a club to advance the material and moral interests of Carroll county. Every body present had a genuine thrill when it was announced that this gathering of Carrollton men was one of the largest ever assembled around a banquet board in Carrollton.

It was the consensus of opinion that Georgia is entering upon a new era of prosperity and that Carroll county, with her wonderful agricultural, poultry and mah-power resources, should organize and let the outside world know what Carroll county is, and that Carrollton is the midway point between Washington and Los Angeles on the Bankhead highway and Detroit and Fort Myers on state route No. 1.

It was suggested that Carrollton is a logical place for an up-to-date tourists' camp to accommodate the large and growing number of tourists that pass through the city and county daily. It was pointed out that Carrollton is a logical place for diversified manufacturing, as Carrollton occupies a fortunate geographical location, with sides having adequate hydro-electric power facilities.

Judge E. Hoop was elected chairman of the meeting and Homer L. Hendon, secretary. Judge Hoop, in a very happy and apt speech, told of the power of organized men and stated that now is the opportune time for Carrollton to organize and advertise the wonderful resources of Carroll county.

J. A. Mandeville in a forceful speech showed the power of cooperation in developing and advancing the interests of Carrollton and Carroll county.

Colonel B. F. Boykin recited the remarkable manufacturing development of other cities in the western part of Georgia. He also mentioned the fact that the eyes of the world are on the south and that, according to a statement of Roger Babson, Georgia has more natural resources than any other state in the south. Mr. Boykin stated that it is up to Carrollton and Carroll county to take advantage of the great movement toward the south. He offered a resolution that the chairman name a nominating committee to suggest the names for temporary officers until the next regular meeting, at the High school building on the second Friday in December.

The chairman named Dr. T. R. Luck, A. J. Baskin and S. J. Steinbach for this committee. The committee retired and brought back the following nominations: Mayor L. J. Brock, temporary president; L. L. Cheney, temporary vice president, and Homer L. Hendon, temporary secretary-treasurer.

A committee will arrange a special program for the next meeting on the second Friday in December at which time a constitution and by-laws will be submitted to the board for ratification. It was suggested that there be no board of directors and that the affairs of the club be determined and controlled by a quorum of its whole membership in order that every member may be free to plan for and participate in all deliberations and that each member may feel his individual responsibility for the advancement and upbuilding of the town and county.

Speeches were made by Mayor L. J. Brock, A. K. Sneed, Chip Foster, L. L. Cheney, C. E. Smith, J. W. Griffin, Harry Moore, J. W. Stone, Louis E. T. Stearns, Dr. J. H. Cull, Colonel J. L. Smith, J. T. Cox, Jr., Professor Knox Walker and C. K. Henderson, Jr.

A vote of thanks was given to Miss Gaines, director of domestic arts of the Carrollton High school, and the young women in her department, who prepared the banquet.

2 NEGROES BADLY CUT IN FREE FOR ALL FIGHT

Two negroes, Floyd Byrd and his uncle, Patterson Byrd, both of 80 Newton street, were taken to Grady hospital Thursday night for wounds about the head and shoulders which were received when they were attacked by three unidentified negroes with knives in front of 4 Bender street.

Patterson had a deep knife wound in the right shoulder and doctors fear the lung may have been punctured. Floyd Byrd had cuts about the head and left arm. Neither could tell Cull Officers G. E. Williams and J. H. Crankshaw the names of their assailants nor why they were attacked.

Barnett, Ga., November 26.—(Special).—Horace Hill, of Crawfordville, was seriously injured yesterday when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Georgia train at a grade crossing near Barnett. Mr. Hill was removed to an Augusta hospital.

The car was demolished. The train was running from Atlanta to Augusta.

Visit to Barnyard On 'Turkey' Day Fatal to 'Possum

Macon, Ga., November 26.—(AP)—Some people sallied forth bright and early this morning to slay game for their Thanksgiving dinner; others repaired to the corner grocery and meat market, but not Fred L. Williams, of 636 Pio Nono avenue.

Mr. Williams obtained the "makings" of a bountiful dinner appropriate to the occasion without stirring out of his own back yard.

Sometime before dawn the Williams household and a part of the fashionable Cherokee Heights section were aroused by unearthly squawks of protest from the Williams henhouse. Investigation revealed two fine hens, with their throats severed.

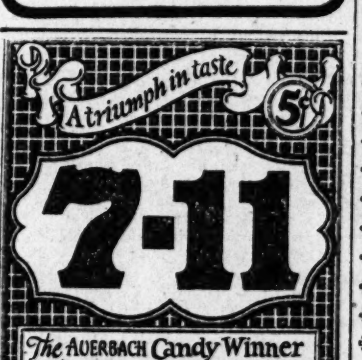

The probe continued, and a few minutes later the household discovered a furry shape hiding under the house. Brought forth to the dim light of early day, it proved to be a fine, fat 10-pound 'possum.

TWO MEN AND WOMAN FACE LIQUOR CHARGES

Two men and a woman were arrested Thursday afternoon by members of the city vice squad and Deputy Sheriff J. E. Nelms on charges of possession of whisky. The woman was Mrs. R. W. Mahaffey, of 41 Crew street.

Officers said that they found two half pints of whisky in her possession and that she had just made a sale to J. Ledbetter and O. C. Lester, both of Egan park. Both were taken into custody and charged with possession of whisky and disorderly conduct. Members of the vice squad making the raid were R. L. Mosely, C. C. Harper and H. C. Newton.

GEORGIA SCIENTISTS MEET IN ATHENS TODAY

Athens, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—The fourth annual session of the Georgia Academy of Science will open here Friday, November 27, for a two-day meeting, according to the president, Professor L. L. Hendren. The sessions will be held at the University of Georgia, group meetings being held in different meetings.

The opening meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the Moore building. This will be an executive council meeting. The annual dinner will be held at 6:45 o'clock, the members being guests of the university. Chancellor Snelling will welcome the delegates, and the response will be by President Hendren. The main address will be by Dr. W. A. Patrick, of Johns Hopkins university.

A business meeting Saturday morning and a luncheon, the state department of agriculture being host, will feature the closing day's session.

The purpose of the academy, which is made up of a limited number of scientific men of Georgia, is to encourage and promote scientific research in the state, it is stated.

The Georgia branch, granted a charter by the last legislature, is also affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Mercer Students Desire To Select 3 of 10 Trustees

Macon, Ga., November 26.—A request for permission to nominate three of the ten trustees elected annually for Mercer university will be made by the Alumni association of the university to the members of the Georgia State Baptist convention at the meeting in Savannah early in December. J. K. Williams, secretary of the association, announced.

Mr. Williams also announced that more than $175,000 has been subscribed by the Mercer alumni for the erection of a new $200,000 memorial gymnasium on the campus. The campaign, which has been going on for the past 18 months will come to a close on December 10, according to Mr. Williams. All subscriptions for the building must be in the office by that time, he adds.

In referring to the proposed request to the convention for representation on the board, the university alumni point out the other institutions over the country that are permitted to name several members of the board of trustees. The Mercer alumni only ask for the right to nominate three of the ten elected annually by the convention.

Hugh M. Willet, Atlanta, president of the association; T. E. Ryals, Macon, vice president, and J. K. Williams, secretary, will attend the meeting in Savannah.

With the amount already pledged for the erection of the gymnasium work on it will begin soon after the meeting of the convention. It is hoped that the building will be completed by the opening of the 1926-27 term of the university next September.

Who Wins or Loses By Italy's Debt Settlement?

IF THERE ARE ANY EUROPEANS LEFT who would like to paint Uncle Sam in the role of Shylock, remarks the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph they will be disappointed at the news of the agreement concluded at Washington on November 14 for the payment of Italy's war debt to the United States. "Short of throwing off all interest or canceling the principal as well, the agreement gives Italy about all that a debtor willing to pay would expect to receive from a considerate creditor," agrees the Chicago Tribune while the Baltimore Sun hails the debt-funding agreement as "another milestone along the road to international economic stability."

Should the Submarine Be Outlawed?

THE TORPEDOED LUSITANIA is the symbol, to the popular mind, of the submarine's war-time terror. And the fact that in time of peace the undersea boat is so often a death-trap for its crew makes many gravely question whether it ought not to be abandoned. The loss of the American S-51 off the New England coast in September, and of the British M-1 in the English Channel seven weeks later, are only the latest of a series of post-war submarine disasters that have afflicted the navies of the United States, Great Britain, and Japan. The tragic and mysterious

"The American people will lose heavily on the debt settlement with Italy, but it is a wise settlement for all that," declares the Springfield Republican, and this conclusion is also reached by the large majority of representative American newspapers. Three well-known Washington correspondents—David Lawrence, of the Consolidated Press Association; Clinton W. Gilbert, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger; and W. W. Jermaine, of the Seattle Times, agree that there was no alternative but to grant Italy what amounts to a 75 per cent. cancellation of the principal and interest charges combined over a period of 62 years. sinking of the giant submersible monitor M-1, with its entire crew of sixty-nine officers and men, has aroused vigorous popular agitation in England for the complete abolition of the submarine.

In America the prevailing sentiment toward such a proposal seems to be one of sympathy tempered with doubt as to its feasibility. In Japan the Minister of the Navy calls it "good in principle," but fears that it is not practicable. In France, where the submarine is regarded as a very necessary weapon of defense, the idea finds scant favor. Read this interesting article in this week's "Digest."

Announcing Crestline

At Sarasota, Florida

"The City of Glorified Opportunity"

This is probably the most unusual offer of Florida real estate ever made in Atlanta. Read about it—then ACT.

Sarasota is the most beautiful and the fastest-growing city in Florida. It is about 60 miles south of Tampa on the West Coast, where development has only begun and VALUES ARE RAPIDLY INCREASING.

Crestline lies directly in the only important line of inland development of this progressive city. It is in the very heart of the richest agricultural section of the entire state.

Between Sarasota and Crestline the Adair Company of Atlanta, the Ringling Brothers, the Potter-Palmer Corporation of Chicago and many other wealthy organizations are spending vast sums in developing and building. The city is also building here a wonderful new Fair Grounds, a fine Golf Course, a Race Track and a beautiful Park.

On each side of Crestline the subdivisions are rapidly being built up in homes. The vast Potter-Palmer drainage project, which forms a crescent around Crestline, will soon open up 27,000 acres of new saw-grass muck land to settlement in small farms.

These settlers must have their homes on the high ridges and Crestline is the highest property anywhere in the locality.

Two Railroads have rights-of-way through Crestline, and the county is now paving a fine highway right through the center of it. One of the railroads is also building in Crestline.

HOLD-UP STAGED BY TWO NEGROES

Police are investigating a hold-up staged by two negroes at Washington street and Crew alley, an attempted hold-up of Charles Taylor and his wife, of 85 Clark street, within a short distance from their home, and numerous burglaries.

Two unidentified negroes who attempted to hold up Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, became frightened when Mrs. Taylor screamed for help, and fled. Call Officers G. E. Williams and J. H. Crankshaw searched the neighborhood but were unable to find the negroes.

A. R. Simmons, 22, of 74 East Mitchell street, reported that he had been held up and robbed of $8 as he was walking along Washington street at Crew alley. He called police and Call Officers W. A. Chewing and G. B. Lee investigated.

Armas Maddox, 17, and George Walker, 26, both living in Crew alley were arrested on suspicion but were later released after questioning. Simmons told officers that one of the negroes ordered him to put up his hands at the point of a gun while the others rifled his pockets.

Howard Lindsey, of 73 Rawson street, reported the theft of $12 in money and a pair of trousers. A portable phonograph was stolen from the Fraternity Sandwich shop at 6 East North avenue.

J. L. Weinstein, of the Cecil hotel, reported the theft of two sample cases.

Suffered for years with acute rheumatism

HAD RHEUMATISM

FOR YEARS—

FOUND HELP AT LAST

Tells how simple home treatment brought relief

Thousands of rheumatic sufferers who have tried remedy after remedy in vain, report that they have got quick, complete relief from a very simple home treatment.

"I have suffered with acute rheumatism for years," writes a man from Winchester, N. H. "After having tried various remedies, Sloan's Liniment was recommended to me, and it stopped the pain. I am quite old—past sixty years."

A little Sloan's patted on lightly—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destrating blood is sent tingling through pain-ridden tissues. No rubbing! The medicine itself does the work.

Soon the swelling and inflammation go down. The aching stops. Almost suddenly you find yourself free from pain, really comfortable at last. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents. J. C. Sloan.

One contained sweaters and the other underwear.

Other thefts included: J. T. McGee, of 27 Arlington place, an automobile tire; P. E. Scott, of 220 East Linden street, carpenter tools; Ralph LeCroy, 300 Windsor street, and Mrs. J. C. Head, Center Hill, bicycles; T. W. Lassiter, of 30 Brookwood drive, an overcoat; A. H. Brown, of 271 Whitehall, a watch; Ophelia Lewis, of 193 Wylie street, a quantity of wearing apparel.

Albemarle, N. C., November 26.—(AP)—Stories recounting whippings of negro convicts "beaten so unmercifully" that they died within a few hours and versions of cruelty were today before Judge P. S. McElroy, committing magistrate, hearing the preliminary trial of M. C. Cranford, Stanley county convict superintendent.

Eight witnesses testified yesterday of "known cruelties" of Cranford, extending over a period of several years, in his handling of the county prisoners.

Some of the witnesses, white men, who were on the stand on the "gang" under the superintendent at the time, testified to having seen Cranford whip two negroes on an afternoon and that both men died early in the night of the same day. All of the witnesses agreed that they were satisfied the deaths were the result of the whippings.

Dr. C. M. Lentz, of Albemarle, testifying later, however, said that he examined the negroes on the evening of their death and declared from what he could learn from Cranford and the guards as well as the examination, the men died from "overheat."

"Did you ever hear of a negro in this country dying from becoming overheated?" the judge asked.

The physician said he had not.

Dr. Lentz said that he found no indications of abrasions or cuts but that he was looking for a looking for such.

He said that it was possible for a person to be beaten to death with a club without any visible signs being left on the body.

Another witness who served under Cranford testified that he had suffered permanent internal injury from a blow administered by the superintendent.

A negro showed the judge scars on his body which he testified were from beatings at the hands of Cranford.

Evidence was brought out tending to show that a negro, Henry Wooten, was dragged behind a truck for a great distance. The negro died shortly afterward.

Dr. Lentz testified that a guard told him the prisoner had been dragged behind a truck. The guard when put before the court denied that he told the physician this.

Judge McElroy said that he hoped to complete the hearing today and indicated that a bill would be sent to the grand jury for immediate action.

KIP RHINELANDER TO TESTIFY TODAY

White Plains, N. Y., November 26. Leonard Kip Rhinelander, the bad penny of his famous family, will take the witness stand Friday to deny the most damaging piece of evidence yet introduced by his wife's lawyers in his suit for annulment of his marriage.

Rhinelanders will deny the testimony of Ross Chidester, the defense witness who said that Rhinelander, learning nearly three years before the wedding that the father of his prospective bride was a negro, had answered "I don't give a damn if he is."

Brands Testimony Lie.

Judge Isaac N. Mills, Rhinelander's chief counsel, who has found his own client to be one of the worst witnesses a lawyer ever had to contend with, says Rhinelander asserts that Chidester's testimony was untrue, but there is no telling what Leonard Kip will testify to until he is actually on the stand.

Judge Mills, head of the Rhinelander counsel, which was attacked vigorously in a leading editorial in the New York World Thursday morning for failing to settle the case without degrading all concerned and shaming the families of both Leonard Kip and Mrs. Rhinelander, wishes to minimize the importance of Chidester's testimony. He asserts that the newspapers gave it too much prominence.

In cross-examination of Chidester, Mills said, he "tore him to pieces" and destroyed the force of the testimony. Mills expressed surprise that the devastating effect of the cross-examination was not apparent to the newspaper men.

Witness Was "Godsend."

"He was a Godsend to us," insisted the venerable former jurist, asserting that Chidester's appearance would prove of more value to Rhinelander's case than to Mrs. Rhinelander's.

Mills promised not to introduce any more of the dusky wife's love letters to Leonard Kip. Neither would he subject her to a long cross-examination, he said, inasmuch as she had gone into such great detail in her letters.

The senior counsel amazed newspapermen when he said he was supremely confident that the jury would grant Rhinelander an annulment of his marriage, asserted that he had proved everything he set out to prove and added that in his many years of service in court he was never more completely satisfied. There has not been the slightest failure.

The senior counsel amazed newspapermen when he said he was supremely confident that the jury would grant Rhinelander an annulment of his marriage, asserted that he had proved everything he set out to prove and added that in his many years of service in court he was never more completely satisfied. There has not been the slightest failure.

"He was a Godsend to us," insisted the venerable former jurist, asserting that Chidester's appearance would prove of more value to Rhinelander's case than to Mrs. Rhinelander's.

Mills promised not to introduce any more of the dusky wife's love letters to Leonard Kip. Neither would he subject her to a long cross-examination, he said, inasmuch as she had gone into such great detail in her letters.

TROLLEY MEN WARNED AGAINST HASTY STEPS

Members of the local organization of the Street and Electric Railway union are urged to "do nothing hasty," and to "meet the situation and attempt to work it out," in the text of a report of a committee representing the order in negotiations with the Georgia Railway and Power company for a new wage agreement for 1926. The report was submitted Wednesday night at a meeting of the federation of trades by a committee composed of officers and members of the local union.

The report brought out that there are differences over the contract for the coming year and these were outlined following meetings between representatives of the power company and the street car men's union.

Company Demands Relief.

The preamble of the report covers

BIG LOBBY FORMING UPON WORLD COURT

Ideas have advocated. Opposition to the court among women will be led by Mrs. Medill McCormick, widow of the late senator from Illinois.

As to the chances for the world court adherence program to pass the senate, it is felt here that the fate of the measure depends upon the strength of the forces which Senator William Borah, of Idaho, and other outspoken "bitter-enders" can rally during the long, hot fight expected.

Sufficient Majority Claimed.

Both Senator Leconte, of Wisconsin, ranking democrat on the foreign relations committee, have reported to the president that they have lined up a two-thirds vote necessary to bring about participation. Senator Swanson has announced that he can count on 75 senators to favor adherence.

It is expected, however, that the debate will be long and fierce. There is also a possibility that so many reservations will be incorporated into American acceptance, if any, that the present members of the court would prefer America to remain out rather than grant so many concessions.

THANKSGIVING IS SPENT AT HOME BY ATLANTANS

had the allotment of a pound of turkey per soldier. City, county and state offices were closed, nearly all the city business offices for the day and all banks were closed.

Schools were closed and will not reopen until Monday. Theaters were going in full force, many giving extra performances for holiday crowds. The Stone Baking company reported it had cooked 75 tons of fruit cake for the "Thanksgiving" dinner, which is an allotment of about one-half pound to each of the 300,000 citizens of the Atlanta district.

With old faithful castor oil on the job and "good digestion waiting on appetite and good health on both," the Thanksgiving festivities should produce no bad results, and all reports received until late in the night indicated that the old, time-honored holiday had been observed with complete success despite the rain, despite the tummy aches and despite the heavy inroads made on the pantries and coal cellars.

close understanding between the government and the holders of its obligations, which now total more than $20,000,000,000. It was believed that the knowledge of opportunity now and then to dispose of the securities direct to the government would gradually increase the number of persons who would invest in government obligations. Officials have recognized that a wide market will be required for the government to accomplish its heavy refunding operations which it must make in the next five years.

of the count was deferred until Friday morning, leaving three delegates from the clergy yet to be named.

Alternates Named.

Also to be named are four alternates from their ranks, and three alternates from among the laymen, who chose their seven delegates without difficulty on the first ballot.

Leaders in the early balloting for ministerial delegates, apart from the four chosen were without exception supporters of unification. They were: Dr. T. D. Ellis, of Louisville, 100; the Rev. C. R. Jenkins, pastor of St. Luke's, at Columbus, 87; Dr. Walter Anthony, pastor of Mulberry Street, here, 80; Dr. W. F. Quillian, president of Wesleyan college, 57.

The seven lay delegates elected from among the section of 80 that cast 80 votes again unification Wednesday were: George S. Jones, of Macon, 78; F. J. Dudley, of Columbus, 77; J. M. Rogers, of Savannah, 75; L. E. Heath, of Waycross, 76; R. L. Grover, of Corde, 75; R. S. Richardson, of Valdosta, 74; J. D. Gardner, of Thomasville, 72.

The following laymen's alternates were elected: Max L. McRae, of Macon; J. A. Lang, of Dawson, and C. Whitehurst, of Dublin.

At 11:30 the conference adjourned until Friday to attend the Thanksgiving day service at which Bishop Candler preached.

Because Rev. Silas Johnson was called to Columbus to conduct a marriage ceremony, there was no sermon at the afternoon session.

Dr. Todd Speaks.

Tonight the anniversary celebration of the joint board of finance was held, with an address by Dr. Luther E. Todd.

At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, the special order will be the board of missions.

Bishop Ainsworth took up the reports of the different districts, these being presented by the presiding elders.

Rev. E. M. Overby presented the report for the American district, showing that 331 members had been taken into the churches by vows and 308 by certificates. He said that there was a condition of "indifference" in the district which would have to be overcome.

A survey taken in the district, he said, shows 35 per cent of the people interested in the church work; 61 per cent indifferent, and 4 per cent antagonistic.

Two new churches have been planned in this district. A total of $139,768 was raised for all purposes. At the close of the year, he said, there was still an unpaid balance due the preachers of $248.

"That district is one that has been blessed with a bountiful harvest," commented Bishop W. N. Ainsworth in receiving the report, "and which they could have seen their responsibility to the Lord."

Rev. J. P. Dell presented the report of the Columbus district, which he pictured as one of the most promising for the Methodist church in the state.

New Churches Organized.

Rev. M. Dell told of the organization of a new church at Buena Vista, and of the building of a brick church at North Highlands, Columbus, for which he gave Rev. M. Marshall great praise for his cooperation. He said that 462 members had been taken into the church by vows during the year. He said that the people were not as much interested in missions as they ought to be, but said they would respond when an appeal is made.

Taking of further reports was stopped, because of the nearness of the hour of recess.

Bishop Ainsworth read a letter from Dr. P. Melson, missionary in Czechoslovakia, showing the establishment of 34 churches and of 9,988 members there. The letter indicated that the Czechs showed resentment against Rome's effort to dictate and many had left that church, now taking up membership with any denomination. This leaves a greater field for the missionaries, he said, and "more men and money are needed."

Atlanta Thanksgiving Week

Rome may have been built on seven hills, but Atlanta is built on a divide, on a ridge and the end of a ridge, so that from her gates lead roads to five great ports and to all towns that lie on either the Atlantic or the Gulf of Mexico. It was for this reason that the engineers drove a stake at the Union Station corner when looking for the best railroad and junction point. And, as some now living can tell you, all the old trails from different parts of the south met at the great spring which is now under the Five Points flag pole. The point known as Atlanta has been recognized as a strategic site by the Indians, the soldiers and merchants, and the holder of it has not been without competition.

Anyone can destroy, especially with fire, but it speaks well for the men of Atlanta that in so short a time they have built such a city as Grady used to dream of. People come to Atlanta now by road and rail and plane, some on business, some to enjoy the society and gaiety of her famous clubs, some to find the beautiful in her exhibits of art and music, and landscaped suburbs, others to match their skill on her championship golf courses, and all are welcomed with that brand of hospitality unique to Atlanta.

These buildings, and factories, and railroads are but the expression in material form of the plans and ideas of those dreamers who in '66 determined to build with their hands a city worthy to be the capital of the New South. It is for these men of the New South, these builders of Atlanta, that we should give thanks.

THE JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

PROPOSE TO CHANGE ROUTE OF HIGHWAYS IN SOUTH GEORGIA

Action on a proposal to change the location of highways between Moultrie, Thomasville and Quitman was deferred by the state highway board at a meeting in Moultrie Tuesday, it was announced Thursday. Chairman John N. Holder and Stanley S. Bennett, two members of the board, were present at the Moultrie hearing, but, owing to the absence of the third member, John Phillips, decision in the matter was deferred until the board's next regular meeting on December 4.

Roads concerned in the routing proposal are to be hard-surfaced in the future and it is necessary to fix a permanent location before this work begins. Citizens of Favo vigorously opposed the plan to change the highway routes, inasmuch as their town would be left entirely off the main highways if the change is made.

CHARLES CORLISS, PETREL TACKLE, REVEALS WEDDING

Culmination of an interesting romance of the football gridiron was revealed Thursday in the announcement that Charles Corliss, for three years star tackle of the Oglethorpe Petrels, was secretly married to Miss Nan Lee, of Covington, Ga., on July 29 last.

The marriage had been kept secret, it was stated, while Corliss played through his last football season, which ended Thursday when the Petrels played in Chattanooga.

The bride is a member of a prominent Covington family and is well known in Atlanta. She is a close friend of Mrs. "Mutt" Stephens, wife of one of Oglethorpe's greatest football players and now coach of Gordon institute.

Stephens introduced Corliss to Miss Lee while she was visiting at Mrs. Stephens' home, Mrs. Fred Stewart, at 359 Gordon street early last summer.

MRS. GILMORE'S BODY TAKEN BACK TO TEXAS

New York, November 26.—(AP)—A special car tonight bore the body of Mrs. Electra Waggoner Gilmore, who died in a hospital today, to Fort Worth, Texas, for burial.

During her illness, her brother, Guy L. Waggoner, wealthy Fort Worth oil man, raced to her bedside, hiring a special train at St. Louis, which made a record for the run to New York. He was at his sister's side until her death. Mr. Waggoner and other relatives accompanied the body to Texas.

MIRTH IS RULER OF VAUDEVILLE BILL AT FORSYTH

Mirth took the boards Thursday night in the new week-end bill of vaudeville at Keith's Forsyth theater—mirth that ran from chuckling "gags" to side-splitting burlesque.

The offering is one of the best Atlanta's ever saw anywhere and each one of the five acts might well headline a good program.

In the mind of the average person, burlesque means a show for "gentlemen only," but Ned Norworth, in his "imitable revue," proved that burlesque can be decent. Filled with just the right amount of humor, Norworth's sketch also included serious moments.

Young Fred Lewis, tenor soloist with Luxworth, received tumultuous applause, but had to share honors with the strikingly pretty and fascinating young woman in the act (name unknown) and the versatile and entertaining comedian.

Presenting an act labeled "Horace"—(the only horse in the number was one on the back drop)—Syl-ester and Vance explained that "horace" means the same as "bull." Their skit was well received.

Torcon Beazian and Edna White offered selections from "grand opera" and popular songs of a sentimental type. Beazian, former leading baritone in several opera companies, and White, trumpet soloist with Pryor's band and a coloratura soprano, formed one of the best numbers on the bill.

The other serious act was a study in art by Irma, Belina and Milona—(the "strong man" stunt executed in graceful poses).

Fred Lewis, Jester de luxe and all-around comedian, literally brought the house to its feet in a running-fire act of comedy and sketchy singing. His "take-offs" on current events swept a crowd that packed every corner of the theater.

Pathe News and a comedy movie rounds out the act.

Shoes Must Fit—Why Not People?

Many years ago a man who was not good enough to be a mechanic or to hold any job that required special training, could always get a job in a store. Today it is very different—employees are intelligently selected so as to have the necessary qualifications for a particular kind of work, just as actors are selected to play parts for which their abilities are suited.

Department stores today are attracting a much higher grade of men and women to their ranks than formerly, as is evidenced by the increasing number of college graduates in their employ. We are glad to welcome these young people to the ranks of the Davison-Paxon-Stokes store at the time when they have just completed their education and are seeking a field in which to put their ability and enthusiasm to work.

These young people bring to the organization a spirit of sportsmanship which has taught them through their competitive effort in college that there is a premium on doing things well and that not every one can make the first team, but that everyone can try. Come and see this new store spirit for yourself.

Houser Believes 1926 Conventions in Atlanta Will Establish Record

Returns to City After Tour of Country During Which He Landed Three Meetings.

BY BEN COOPER.

Forecasting a convention year for 1926 that will equal, if not surpass, the banner year 1923 when 400 state and national organizations held sessions in Atlanta, "Cousin Fred" Houser, amiable secretary of the Atlanta Convention and Tourist Bureau, has returned to Atlanta in a most optimistic mood over this city's prospects for the future in his line of endeavor.

"We already have 28 conventions booked for 1926, and have prospects of running that number up to 400 when the convention city committees of the various organizations meet around the first of the new year," "Cousin Fred" said. "These convention people are beginning to realize that the pleasant southern hospitality you read about in books is not a myth in Atlanta, and they are beginning to learn that here they are accorded a welcome such as they receive nowhere else."

Three hundred conventions have been booked and entertained during 1925, including those to be entertained during the remainder of this year. "Cousin Fred" spent six weeks traveling about the country in the interest of getting conventions to Atlanta, and captured three national associations at one fell swoop. These are the Southern Hotel association, which Frank T. Reynolds, of the Ansley hotel, helped to swing for Atlanta and which will bring 3,000 persons here; the National Restaurant Men's association, 1,000 members, with a huge exhibit, and the Outdoor Advertising association, 1,000 members.

In Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Houser was appointed on the membership committee of the National Association of Convention and Tourist Bureau Secretaries. At the secretaries' convention, Mr. Houser said, it was brought out that the average convention visitor stays three days in the convention city and spends $11.50 a day. Conventions are bringing American cities an amount of money equal to that turned over in the automobile industry every year, Mr. Houser said. He is a charter member of the association and has never missed a meeting.

Atlanta hotel men are cooperating to the fullest extent with the convention and tourist bureau, to the effect that the prospects for 1926 are indeed radiant, Mr. Houser declared. Meetings yet to be held during 1925 in Atlanta follow: Alpha Kappa Kappa National fraternity, Georgia Ice Cream Manufacturers, Southern Association of Car Service Officials, dates not set.

American Face Brick Manufacturers association and American Face Brick Dealers association, December 1-3; Georgia Real Estate association, December 9-10; Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity, December 27-31; Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical fraternity, December 29-31.

Conventions booked for 1926 follow:

Dates not set: Southern Nurses' association, Reserve City Bankers' association, National Congress of Parent-Teacher associations, Georgia Association of Retail Furniture Dealers, Southern Hardware Jobbers association, American Hardware Manufacturers, Southeastern Retail Shoe Dealers association, Disabled Veterans of the World War, International Association of Stage Employees, Appalachian Scenic Highway association, National Restaurant association, National Poster Advertising association, Southeastern Singing convention, Georgia Confederate Veterans, Georgia State Veterinary association, January 1-3; National Sand and Gravel association, 19-20; Seaboard Air Line Freight Agents, 19-20; February: Southern Agricultural Workers association, 1-6; American Ceramic society, 8-13; Georgia Association of Independent Telephone Companies, February or March. March: Southeastern Photographers association, 9-11. April: American Cotton Shippers association, 10-11. May: Southeastern Retail Hardware and Implement association, 10-12; Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta, 9-15.

June: State convention Order of Red Men, 15; Georgia Degree of Pocahontas Great Council, 16. August: Interstate Sacred Harp Singing convention, 13-14.

September: Georgia Gideons, 11; Georgia Press association and State Meeting convention committee of the American Ceramics society, 24; executive board of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, 23.

December: Pi Kappa Alpha National fraternity, 28-31.

Conventions booked for 1927 include the American Business clubs, the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions, and the American Traveling Passenger Agents.

COPY OF GERMAN TREATY WITH U. S. IS RECEIVED HERE

A copy of the treaty of friendship, commerce and consular rights between the United States and Germany has just been received by the Atlanta district office of the department of commerce in the Federal building and is available for consultation, according to Harry O. Mitchell, acting district manager.

This treaty was originally negotiated in 1923, signed at Washington on December 8 of that year, ratified with senate reservations and understandings on February 10, 1925, ratified by the president on October 6, 1925, and by Germany on August 20, and proclaimed October 14.

As this is the first of the commercial treaties negotiated by the United States under the new policy of conditional most-favored-nation treatment, the document is valuable for more than its bearing on the trade with Germany since treaties with other countries are likely to follow this model.

Treaty with Germany has assumed special interest to Georgia's manufacturers and producers in view of the fact that goods valued at nearly $30,000,000 were exported to Germany through Georgia ports during the calendar year 1924, making Germany our leading customer in international trade.

NEGROES IN SOUTH MOST PROSPEROUS DECLARES HOLMES

Rev. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes Institute, in delivering a Thanksgiving address to students and friends of the Holmes Institute Thursday afternoon, said that there is no class of people who should feel more thankful than the colored people of the south who own more farms, homes, businesses and built more churches and schools than do negroes in any other part of the United States. "This is due to the superior opportunity offered in all avenues of life," he said. "The management of the Holmes Institute feels thankful to the white and colored people of Atlanta and the south who made it possible by their generosity for the Holmes Institute to erect a $50,000 building with all modern improvements."

At the close of the address Thanksgiving exercises were rendered by the students.

Thanksgiving exercises were observed in many of the colored churches of the city and addresses were made by educators and ministers.

ATLANTA METHODS OF REGISTRATION HIGHLY PRAISED

Congratulations were extended on Thursday to City Clerk Walter C. Taylor, Jr., by Joseph P. Harris, assistant professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin, for the methods applied here in registration of voters for primaries and general elections.

Mr. Harris told Mr. Taylor he had found few systems as effective as may be found here.

Hundreds of Women "Made Over" Again

"Amazing Tonic, Taylor's Blood Medicine, Made Me Feel Like a New Woman," They Write.

"I had given up all hope of feeling real well again. My stomach was always upset and I often suffered heartburn. Most of the time I was as weak as a kitten and nearly everything I liked best at the table I was afraid to eat. My skin was always broken out in pimples and I seemed to be losing weight every day. Then a neighbor told me about Taylor's Blood Medicine. She was a lady over 50 years old and she was as young and healthy as most women of 30. She said she had taken Taylor's Blood Medicine every summer for ten years—when ever she began to feel run down and it always kept her feeling fine and strong. After I got my first bottle from the druggist and took about half of it, I felt like a new woman. My appetite picked right up and it seemed I couldn't get enough to eat. Then I began to put on weight. I gained ten pounds in a month. My complexion cleared up and every sign of stomach trouble left me. I don't believe there was ever a tonic like it. I'm a new woman today and I can thank Taylor's Blood Medicine for it."

This letter is one of hundreds received every year by The Taylor Medicine Company, of Tampa, Florida, from women all over the south. It is surprising how many of them declare, "I feel like a new woman since starting to take Taylor's Blood Medicine." Yet there is nothing remarkable about this when you realize that Taylor's Blood Medicine is one of the most amazing blood purifiers ever made. It goes right to the seat of the trouble—clears all the poisons and waste matter out of your blood. And that gives Nature the chance to build up your strength and health.

After Taylor's Blood Medicine has made your blood pure and rich, stomach troubles, indigestion, rheumatism, kidney trouble and all other such ailments that come from bad blood quickly leave you and you feel strong and healthy again.

Taylor's Blood Medicine contains Iodide of Potash and a compound of several pure vegetable ingredients noted for their ability to destroy poisons acids in the blood.

This is why Taylor's Blood Medicine has been found by thousands of men and women to be the most astonishing remedy yet made to clear up the blood and stop all the symptoms that lead to such ills as chronic rheumatism, Bright's Disease and paralysis. This is why it makes tired, weak, nervous people feel years younger—often after they have taken only one bottle.

You are entitled to the vigorous health that makes for real happiness in life. Start today to build yourself up. Ask your druggist for a bottle of this amazing blood tonic. Be sure to say Taylor's Blood Medicine, and accept no imitation. Taylor's Blood Medicine costs only $1 a large bottle and is guaranteed. Taylor Medicine Co., Tampa, Fla.—(adv.)

GERMANS APPROVE QUIET THANKSGIVING LOCARNO TREATIES SPENT BY COOLIDGES

Berlin, November 26.—(AP)—By an overwhelming majority, the reichstag today adopted, on the second reading, the law approving the security pact and arbitration treaties initiated at Locarno and Germany's entry into the league of nations.

Tomorrow the treaties will be formally ratified with the third reading of the measure, thus enabling Chancellor Luther and Foreign Secretary Stresemann to proceed to London to sign the pact and treaties.

In the course of the next month Germany will make formal application for admission to the league. The only opposition to the various treaties came from the German nationalists, communists and extreme nationalists, led by General Ludendorff. The attempt of the nationalists to forestall Germany's admission to the league, by demanding the enactment of a special law authorizing such procedure, was defeated by a heavy vote.

Lack of Leader Prevents French Dictatorship

BY CHARLES M. McCANN.

London, November 26.—Diplomatic reports from Paris indicate that only the lack of a dominant personality like Benito Mussolini stands between France and an attempt to establish a French dictatorship.

It is declared that the governmental machinery in Paris is so paralyzed that the French populace, with its innate common sense and its disgust over the inability of the politicians to form a stable government, would rally to the support of any leader who showed sufficient strength to force himself to the head of the state.

The fact that diplomats here consider a coup d'etat most unlikely is due to the belief that there is no leader in France strong enough to engineer such a movement.

Some persons here foresee the remote possibility of an attempted communist coup if the situation becomes worse, but they believe that if it occurred, it would be crushed easily, merely resulting in a reaction which would cause the entrance of a strong conservative government.

The eventual solution, it is believed, may be the dissolution of parliament, perhaps accompanied by revision of the electoral laws. These are blamed for causing the present chaos, due to the number of small parties represented in the chamber.

In well-informed circles here, it is believed the French solution will come soon. It is pointed out that France is in too solid a condition to brook long delay. Nationally, the situation is excellent, with a favorable trade balance, thriving agriculture and no unemployment.

JURY TRYING DETROIT NEGROES DEADLOCKED

Detroit, November 26.—(AP)—The jury in the case of Dr. Ossian H. Sweet and ten other negroes, charged with slaying of Leon B. Dreiner in a race riot at the Sweet home last September, was still deliberating at 8 o'clock tonight. The case was given the jury late yesterday. Dreiner was killed when shots were fired from the Sweet house.

Doors will open at 1:30 o'clock. Valuable souvenirs will be given each day in order to be sure of receiving some of these, attendees are requested to be in places at 2 o'clock, or at the latest by 2:30 o'clock.

A limited number of seats are reserved for colored cooks who must, however, be accompanied by their white employers to gain admission. Miss Rice has for several years been connected with the Soft Wheat Millers association, and comes to Atlanta direct from Vicksburg, Miss., where she has conducted a most successful school this week. Miss Rice was for two years engaged in domestic science and home economics work at the University of Mississippi and also has done graduate work at Cornell. For nine years she was engaged in state extension work for the United States government in Mississippi and for some time past has been director of field work and home economics for the Soft Wheat Millers association. She has cooperated with state departments and has conducted food demonstrations and cooking schools in all parts of the country.

Miss Gladys Kimbrough will assist Miss Rice with the cooking school here. Miss Kimbrough is in charge of the home economy laboratory for the Millers association. She will give interesting lectures during the school hours on various foods and their values and on the art of proper dining room service and table arrangement. An entire meal will be prepared, and the table set for service each day at the school. On Monday the meal featured will be a full course breakfast, while on Tuesday a luncheon will be arranged.

In addition to the lessons and demonstrations, the instructors will emphasize the healthfulness, dependability and economy of self-rising flour, the only kind which will be used at the school. A full menu of the dishes to be prepared each day will be published in next Sunday's Constitution.

MISSISSIPPI COAST PLANNING AD DRIVE

Biloxi, Miss., November 26.—(AP)—Plans for raising $100,000 with which to advertise the Mississippi coast were under way here today. An advertising campaign to sell the section to the country is planned by members of a Mississippi coast club, the organization of which has been completed. Biloxi and Gulfport are expected to subscribe $25,000 each to the fund and Chicago interests have agreed to contribute a similar amount.

4 KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTOMOBILE
Mahabak, Texas, November 26.—(AP) Four people are dead and three seriously injured as the result of a railroad grade crossing crash 10 miles east of Pauline late today.

A westbound T. and N. O. passenger train struck an automobile with several occupants, three of whom were killed almost instantly. Mary Frances Edwards, young woman of Athens, was mortally injured and died aboard the train on the way to a Dallas hospital.

"Old maids expand; old bachelors concentrate," she added. "Old maiden ladies usually become more beautiful as they grow older, while man—the poor, lonely animal—the older he gets the lonelier he becomes."

Auto Hit by Street Car.
An automobile driven by Ed Harper, negro, of 12 Jeti place, was struck by a street car on Edgewood avenue Thursday night when it stalled on the tracks. Patrolmen Palmer and Wallace investigated but no case was made. The driver of the machine was not injured.

Thanksgiving Abroad

Berlin, November 26.—American Ambassador Schurman, speaking at the Thanksgiving celebration of the American colony here, said: "If I were asked for what we should be most thankful, I would answer, for the growth of sentiment in favor of peace and the prevention of war. One war half-ruined the old world; another might utterly destroy it."

London.—Owing to the general atmosphere of mourning for the late Queen Alexandra, Americans in London spent a Thanksgiving more quiet than usual. Many English hotels and restaurants, however, featured Turkey on their menus in honor of the American holiday.

Madrid.—Leading members of the American colony here celebrated Thanksgiving at a dinner given by Ambassador Moore.

Paris.—Americans in Paris probably celebrated Thanksgiving with more gaiety than those in other European capitals. Parties were general, both in homes and at restaurants—and at the present rate of exchange, the dollar buys more champagne than usual.

Plan To Settle Anthracite Coal Strike Is Offered

New York, November 26.—(AP)—

The committee on coal and giant power, comprised of engineers, economists, publicists, lawyers and business men from all parts of the country, today announced the issuance of a suggestion for a basis on which to settle the present strike in the anthracite coal fields. The plan which has been sent to officials of both the miners and operators, contains the following suggestions:

A wage increase of 50 cents a day for the lowest paid miners, that is, day workers, who now receive between $4.62 and $5.96 a shift.

No price increase over the average panies showing over a 10 per cent return for that period.

An increase of 25 cents a ton only on domestic size of coal.

A revision of all piece work rates, both those now above the average and below the average annual earnings of $3,000.

A check off of regular union dues only by operators of mines where a ballot of all the workers show a two-third vote in favor of it.

Immediate appointment of a committee by the operators and miners to work out an adjustment to piece work rates, and to supervise the balloting on the establishment of the checkoff.

This same committee to submit the expiring of the new agreement a complete report on the estate and needs of the industry.

Seranton, Pa., November 26.—(AP)

Upon his return from Harrisburg to day where he conferred yesterday with Governor Pinchot, W. W. Inglis, chairman of the anthracite operators' negotiating committee, declared that nothing had taken place "in any manner, shape or form to lead me to believe that there will be an early resumption of anthracite mining."

Mr. Inglis would not divulge any of the proceedings of the meeting. He declared that it was agreed between himself and the governor that no statements would be issued concerning the conference.

His statement, however, was taken to indicate that the anthracite strike situation has changed little if any since the miners quit work on September 1.

COLONEL COOLIDGE ENJOYS DINNER AS HEALTH GAINS

Plymouth, Vt., November 26.—(AP)

Having regained much of his old-time vigor since his recent series of heart attacks, Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of the president, sat down to an old-fashioned New England Thanksgiving dinner today. Although Colonel Coolidge passed a somewhat restless night, he appeared well and dined early in the afternoon with his household, consisting of a nurse, his housekeeper and the watchman who has been placed on guard at the little white farmhouse.

One item associated with Thanksgiving dinner, turkey, was absent. Although Vermont produces many turkeys, chief in holds favor in this region at Thanksgiving time. On the menu were, chicken fricassees, stewed onions, mashed turnips, cranberries, creamed potatoes, rice pudding, apple and mince pie, and milk.

66 BARS of SOAP

Do a little calculating—

MOST of the popular brands of tooth paste—and there are very many excellent ones—sell for 50 cents.

Listerine Tooth Paste—as good a tooth paste, by the way, as modern science knows how to produce—sells for 25 cents.

Now do a little calculating for yourself. Like most people you probably use about a tube a month.

Do you realize that this saving in the course of one year represents the price of 60 bars of laundry soap?

JOANNA

BY H. L. GATES

INSTALLMENT XXXVIII.

"I had hoped it would turn out to be more," he said, shortly.

"That's the trouble with hopes," Joanna observed. "We build so much into them and it takes so little to blast them!"

In the long, low ceiling dining room of Villa Amette, they sat across from each other over a table of exquisite nappery and massive silver things. A butler and the serving maid stood silent, immobile between courses, at the end of the spacious room. It wasn't at all like the dingy, coffee-scented restaurant around the corner from John's work room in New York, where they used to "save car fare," as she had called it, by doing the best they could for 30 cents a piece.

"You must tell me all about it, now," Joanna prompted him, when the servants stepped back to their post. When he hesitated she said: "You must begin at the beginning. Your letters have been so rambling. I don't know at all what happened to bring you out of your workroom into fame. It is as mysterious to me as my own situation still is. He told her with the air of one who repeats an old story. He thought he had explained it all in his letters.

"I was called in one day by Mr. Foreman, you remember, head of the firm I worked for? He swept me off my feet by asking if I had not some idea of a memorial, and he described to me just what you and I had talked over so much. We spent an hour over it. I think I got enthusiastic. He reminded me that several times I had spoken of it in the draughting rooms to the other boys. One of them I suppose had mentioned it to him. The firm always was interested in the ideas of its apprentices. And he had passed the thought on to someone who, he said, had become concerned. That's all there was to the start of it. Things just happened suddenly."

"They do, sometimes," Joanna remarked.

"Foreman took me to his house. Two or three of our great architects were there. I had my plans—those plans I used to show to you, Jo. The ones you said made your head dizzy. Then it happened! Someone who is close to Foreman put up the money for me to go ahead. It was promised me that all funds necessary would be found to make the idea materialize. Some societies were interested. Discussions began to pile up. Discussion began. Money was made available for me to work out and build a huge model. I've almost finished that, now. Whatever I need in the way of help is available. When the model is finished, I am assured, money will be forthcoming for construction.

There is to be a world-wide competition among sculptors for the figure of the girl that will surmount the great dome. That's all. Foreman knows the backers. I don't."

"But the thought of the girl, John; that's an original idea, and new, wasn't it? And it's so splendid."

John was silent a moment. Joanna kept her glance on his face. "That is an odd circumstance," he said, slowly. "During that first interview with Mr. Foreman, when he brought up my secret idea, he made the suggestion of symbolizing the romance behind the soldier with the figure of a young girl, representing the youth of all ages. He had worked out that thought himself, or it had been worked out for him. Strangely, too, it seemed to me you had said one time, when you did bother your head by listening to me, that every soldier you knew of went away to fight with a girl's kiss on his lips. I remembered you said soldiers seemed to be satisfied with their girls, anyhow, if other people did distrust them. Foreman had the same idea. So I adopted it. It's caught."

After a time restraint settled between them again. They went into the moon-lit grounds for a turn among the gardens. They came upon a litter of timber. "I'm having a pavilion built," Joanna explained, "for the dancing at my fete. I'm having a party, you know," she volunteered, "early next month. Everyone expects something of the sort among the villas down here, and I'm going to do my best. It was Brandon's idea. He and Yvonne are supervising the details. I'm spending the money. We shall make it something to talk about."

"Yes," John murmured, "all that you do—with the money that was given you, seems to make people talk. I've heard much. In London, in Paris, and even during the single day that I've been here. I asked the concierge at the hotel if he knew where Villa Amette was. 'Oh,' he said, 'Where the Golden Girl lives? It's a gay place, M'sieur. Anyone will show you the way.' And I, fancy, you gave them something to talk about at the Casino this afternoon. You're having a bright time with your money, aren't you Jo?"

"You mean to say, don't you, that I'm frivolling it away?"

"You don't seem to have accomplished much," he returned. "It's quite as I told you, in New York, isn't it?"

"Quite," she agreed, "I'm just a daughter of the Babylonians, John. People say my motto is, flit, lure and venture. I'm not the kind of girl, John, you'd put on your pedestal, am I?"

He wouldn't answer in words; yet Joanna understood that he did answer eloquently. And the shadows in her brown eyes were deeper. Yvonne recognized the depth of them when she returned, having left Kenilworth behind.

Both Yvonne and Joanna were promised at the opera. Lady Weymouth, Teddy Dorminster's blithe sister, was entertaining in her box. One of the grand dukes, a pasha from Constantinople who was interesting because of the general speculation that peopled the chambers of his Bosphorus palace with a bevy of languorous houis, and a demi-mondaine from Paris who had married an American millionaire and was amusing by her efforts to acquire properties, were to be of the party. Lady Weymouth would have been desolate if the Golden Girl and the exotic Yvonne did not appear to perfect the mixture of spice and fashion.

"As you will be promptly possessed by Teddy," Yvonne remarked to Joanna, "I shall take charge of Mr. Wilmore. If Brandon and Roddy turn up they must create their own devices."

When the two women came down from the esoteric mysteries of their boudoirs it was Yvonne who summoned John to join her in a cocktail before they entered the car that awaited to take them back to Monte Carlo. On the drive in from Amette it was Yvonne who talked with him, who dazzled him with his romantic project, and clothed it with the charm of her own sympathetic understanding. Joanna, silent, was almost forgotten until the car drew up at the Casino gardens. There, Dorminster appropriated her. Yvonne, allowing John to reach in his hand to help her from the car, put her fingers into it, and allowed them to rest there until color came into his face.

Jealousy.

The wide grounds of Villa Amette, reaching down the slope of Cap Martin to the sea, began to assume new perspectives of their transformations. The speculative group of workmen that had begun, weeks before, to place their stakes, had now become a busy crew that numbered scores.

Pavilions, pergolas and stretches of polished dance floors bordered by great potted palms brought from Cannes were taking definite shape. Gracful columns, slender and carved into semblance to fairy spires rose in companies that, later, were to be hung with trailing green and hidden lights.

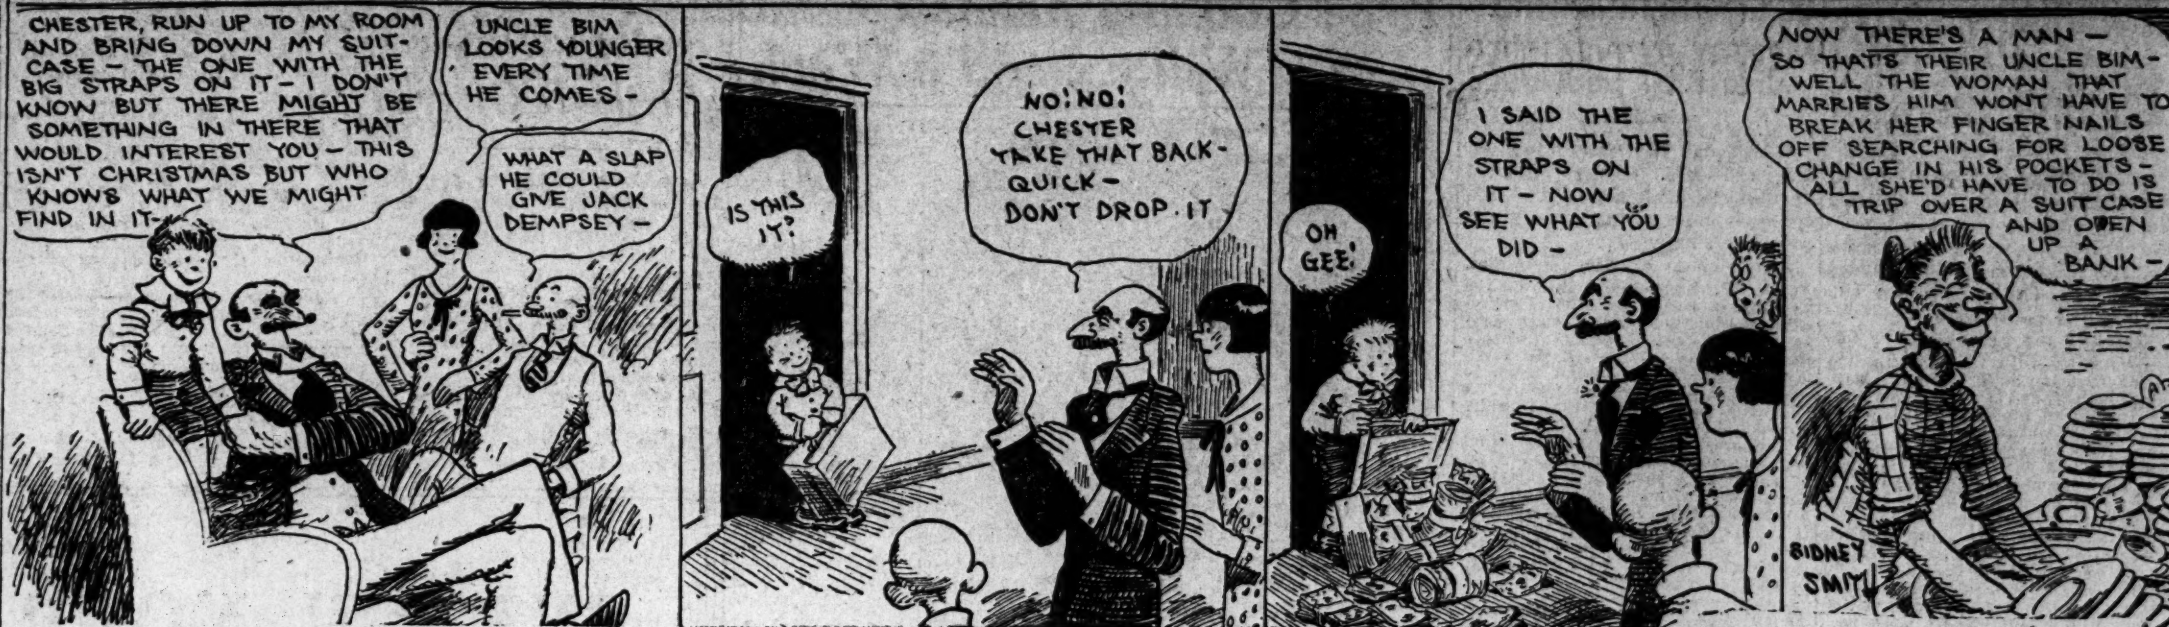

Joanna and Brandon strolled through the lawns on their customary daily inspection. Workmen touched their caps to the Golden Girl with their curiosities shining in their eyes. To them, she was of more interest than the preparations they were making for the fete of which the entire Riviera talked. For a one night's whim of this strange, restless girl, their hands erected an arboreal bower to be covered, for this night, with choicest roses culled from the gardens of the Monegasques in the Condamine. The cost of the roses alone would equal far more than the year's pay of any workman. Around a miniature lake a carpet of lemon wood was being laid, and for the surface of the water, that would be pumped into the lake, a canopied bark such as Cleopatra might have envied was being hewed from cedars. This cost, too, would have sent the children of a family to school for a year, freed a household from its fear of old age poverty, dowered a daughter or erected a home for a son and his bride. But the bower would do its service for a night, provide nothing more perhaps than a fragrant screen for a stolen caress, and then, on the morrow, be contemptuously demolished.

The workmen at Villa Amette tried vainly each day to fit the stupendous folly into the fresh and lovely youth of the girl who walked among them each morning and thanked them prettily when they touched their caps for the progress they had made. Older ones among them, and those who were more thoughtful, glanced from the Golden Girl to Brandon, who walked with her. Sometimes their faces darkened and they muttered to themselves. For, after all, was it not Brandon who urged them, with his ironic smile playing at his lips, to spare no expense? Was it not Brandon, rather than the Golden Girl? Brandon and the girl stood on a knoll that the landscape gardeners had left on the hillside, and surveyed the scene that spread out before them. "Whatever celebrity has been with held from you," Brandon observed, "will come to you after the echoes of this have reached from Nice to Genoa, and to Paris itself. Amette has provided some splendid gaieties in its history; you are promising to outshine them all."

Atlantan Visits Metropolis Enjoying Shops and Theaters And Brings Home Lovely Gowns

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.
Gotham's lights during the excitement preceding the holiday season of Thanksgiving, the shops, the theaters, the Ritz, Pierre's, the Mallards, Broadway itself, what could be more alluring.
The glories of the rich emporiums, featuring the importations so dear to the feminine heart, to say nothing of the lure of the theaters, are quite sufficient alone to intrigue one just now.
One of Atlanta's most charming young matrons, Mrs. John Hill, has just returned from a deliciously fascinating two weeks spent at the Vanderbilt.
What interesting things she tells of New York's shops and shows right now, seeing many of the latter and bringing home with her lots of the former.
Of course, "Sunny," with Marilyn Miller in the leading role, was her first objective. "The cleanest, freshest, brightest show"—not once did she begrudge the price of admission, $25 a seat.
Catherine Cornell as Iris Marsh in Michael Arlen's "Green Hat" was also delightful.
In "The Vortex," a new play with Noel Coward, a wonderful English actor of renown, in the leading role, there was not a lovable character portrayed. This, however, was probably the most gripping, in its realism, of all the plays showing in New York today.
Mary Boland was delightful in "Cradle Snatchers," the new farce comedy which is creating such a sensation at present.

The Shops.
There was ample time for the wonderful shows but there was more time for the more wonderful shops!
In fact, from what a little bird told me, I think this was a shopping jaunt de luxe, to little old New York, by Lois Patillo Hill.
It would seem that she has literally brought back the New York shops with her. Le dernier cri in this charming young Atlantan's trade-mark! It must be stamped on every article in her wardrobe from hats to boots.
And in such profusion!
There are chic little sport things with flaring skirts, knee length and soft, warm sweaters to be worn with these morning dresses in two-piece models in blue and blue; charming afternoon gowns, all knee length and with the inevitable flare; exquisite evening dresses bespeaking the skill of the fashionable couturier, whose work they are; wondrous evening wraps and all of the necessary accessories of hats, slippers, gloves, bags et al.
I must tell you of a little golfing jacket that is too adorable for words! It is called a "wind breaker." The name explains its raison d'être. However, upon first contact, one is at a loss to know whether its purpose is to break the wind in the field of aviation or the golf links—was it originally planned for golfers or aviators? Remembering the proud owner's prowess in the former sport we hastened to the former conclusion.
This particular "wind breaker" is made of suede in the deepest shade of rose. It is hip-length, finished off with a broad, embossed belt, collar and cuffs. The inside is gloriously padded in material of self-tones.
Absolutely, this is the most irresistible robe de femme imaginable.
Another distinctive costume brought home from the New York shops is an ensemble suit in black Kasha cloth. The long coat reaching to the bottom of the short skirt, has a wide sweep of sable dived fitch around the neck and down the front of the coat. This coat is worn over a two-piece

Individual Student Problems Interest Educational Alliance

There is a play called "Are Parents People?" New movements among colleges and college students tend to reveal the startling fact that students are people. The college viewpoint is changing, and there is a growing movement for recognizing much more fully the intimate individual problems involved in the best development of each student as well as the common human traits and tendencies which make them a group. There is along with this a keener realization that the problem of making the student a happy successful worker later on must be met and grappled with in some important sense while the student is still in college.

Specialists Meet.
A group of specialists met together last month under the auspices of the Southern Woman's Educational Alliance in Richmond, Va., to present the contributions which their colleges have made towards meeting this need and to exchange educational information on the subject of student personnel work. Personnel work, which has only recently been extended to the colleges, carries the meaning, along with other meanings, that the student is a person whose future should be a well balanced one between successful work and regard for the other normal interests of life, with the aim of bringing about his fullest, richest development, mentally and spiritually.

The meeting, which took the form of a luncheon conference on October 31, was the afternoon session of the meeting of the general executive board of the Southern Woman's Educational Alliance. The meeting was presided over by Dr. W. Carson Ryan, Jr., associate editor of School and Society and of the Journal of the National Education association and chairman of the educational policies committee of the alliance.

Dr. Ryan's Address.
In opening the meeting Dr. Ryan characterized the Southern Woman's Educational Alliance as one of the most important educational movements under way in the country and sketched the three phases of its work—the college field, the field of the study of occupations and the field of guidance of the rural girl—saying that this program constitutes certainly the most important vocational attack that could be made. Such studies of occupations as the one being completed in Atlanta and the one now under way in Richmond were characterized as an indispensable basis for wise guidance.

A summary was given of the "find yourself" course for college women which is the most recent contribution of the alliance to solving the college student's problem in the world of today, not only after she leaves college, but also how to find her way in the college, to see the relationships of the bewildering array of "courses" to the real life for which she is presumably preparing herself. Among the six southern colleges in which the alliance is to give this course this year are Ames Scott, Wesleyan, Hollins, William and Mary and Duke university.

Dean Bradshaw, of the University of North Carolina, told how the discovery that the average college man tends to flounder ten years after graduation before successful adjustment to his life work is achieved has led fourteen of the great universities of the country to cooperate in an effort to try to discover why this happens.

The officers of the Atlanta branch of the alliance are: Mrs. Samuel M. Iman, president; Mrs. Charles A. Conklin, Mrs. Albert E. Thornton, Jr., Mrs. Edwin K. Large, vice presidents; Mrs. Blair Foster, Mrs. Robert Marshall, secretaries; James P. Alexander, treasurer.

Tech Bulldog Club Is Entertained at Lovely Dinner-Dance
Mrs. Joseph S. Raine and Mrs. Robert W. Davis were joint hostesses at a lovely informal dinner Thanksgiving evening at the S. A. E. fraternity house on West Peachtree street, in compliment to the members of the Bulldog club, popular social organization of Georgia Tech.

At 7 o'clock dinner was served by the "pups," the initiates of the club. Punctuated by a program, a program of late dance music being furnished by the Yellow Jacket Quintet.

Mrs. Davis was handsomely dressed in black panne velvet combined with black crepe.

Mrs. Raine's lovely costume was soft black satin, elaborately beaded in jet.

The "pups" who were special guests included Cabell Garrett, Lonnie Lynn, Wallace Forester, Frank Whitaker, Walter Godwin, Owen Poole, John Hall, Jack Cope, Arthur Edge and George Wilder.

Officers of the club are Carter Barron, president, and Douglas Wycoff, secretary and treasurer.

A number of popular belles of the college set were the invited guests.

36 Pieces Decorated Enamel Bedroom Furniture, Half Price

Sixty days or so ago this Furniture was bought. The shipment arrived and a discovery was made. The finish, as the heading reveals, is the most fashionable Parchment Enamel. Examination disclosed that frequently the finish does not match—that is to say, a vanity may be slightly paler in tone than a chiffonette, or vice versa.

Not being up to the mark, we wired the factory that we were returning the shipment. Meanwhile, they had discovered their error. In reply, they wired that if we would keep the furniture we could have it at 50 cents on the dollar. Here it is—thrown at you on the same basis—Half Price.

Very wonderful, indeed, especially since you have our word for the fact that nothing is wrong. It is well built, on beautiful lines, and the opportunity is a Klondyke.

PETRELS BEAT CHATTANOOGA, 6 TO 2, IN TITLE DRIVE

Kilgore Scores Touchdown, Campbell Presents Safety On Slippery Gridiron

BY ALTON REDFEARN.

Chattanooga, Tenn., November 26.—(Special.) The Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe university defeated the Chattanooga Moccasins here Thursday giving on a slippery muddy field by the score of 6 to 2, practically clinching their second consecutive S. I. A. A. championship, after no less than five hairbreadth escapes during the season.

The field prevented either team from displaying any spectacular football. Oglethorpe and Chattanooga both carried the ball within striking distance of the goal only to lose it by a fumble on several occasions.

It was nip and tuck all the way, except in the first quarter when Oglethorpe launched a successful drive which netted the only touchdown of the game. The slipperiness of the field prevented both sides from scoring further.

The first period began with Oglethorpe kicking off to Chattanooga, and after three downs Chattanooga was forced to punt to Campbell who was downed in his tracks. Oglethorpe failed to gain the required amount of yardage and was forced to kick. It went this way until four or five minutes of play in the first quarter had been consumed.

At this juncture Oglethorpe took the ball from midfield and carried it across the goal line only to have it lost on downs. Cousins threw a bad pass to Campbell, which slowed up the dropkick for the extra point and it was blocked by Scott of Chattanooga. Maurer and Kilgore were largely responsible for the ground gained by the Petrels, as Maurer's 18 and 20-yard runs and Kilgore's off tackle thrusts culminated in a touchdown by Kilgore.

Second Period Even.

The second quarter was a see-saw affair, neither team doing any particular damage, with the exception of a successful forward pass attack launched by Chattanooga before the half was ended, which placed the ball on Oglethorpe's 12-yard line. On the next play a forward pass was intercepted by the Petrels on the five-yard line, from which they carried the ball to the middle of the field as the half ended.

The third period was replete with fumbles. It was in this quarter that most of it was done, in fact, more of it was done than in the other three periods put together. Handily ground was gained from running plays in this account. It liked to have spelled disaster for the Petrels for Oglethorpe fumbled three times for times for a total loss of 20 yards, placing the ball on its own five-yard line. Campbell then elected to kick and standing back of his own goal line, he caught the ball to kick it and seeing that it would probably be blocked, he touched it on the ground for a safety for Chattanooga's part, for if he had kicked and it had been blocked, the score might have been different. The quarter ended with the score: Oglethorpe 6; Chattanooga 2.

The fourth quarter was a repetition of the first three quarters, full of fumbles, mixed with an occasional good gain, and with the Moccasins fighting desperately to win. Several passes were tried by Chattanooga in this period, but few were completed. Almost the entire period the ball was in the middle of the field, and the game ended with the ball in Chattanooga's possession on its own 40-yard line.

Hardin Stars for Petrels.

Caruso Hardin, right guard for the Petrels, played an excellent game. He was in the midst of every play, and several times he went down under punts and tackled the runner with but little gain. Hardin made more tackles than any other man on the field.

The work of Chestnut and Moseley for the Petrels was good. Both had from the second team and will, no doubt, be heard from next year. Chestnut substituted for Carroll at left end, while Moseley played the position of Dewey Justus at left guard. The work of Marvin Nix, Mosley, Cousins, Bill Perkins, Major Guthrie and Charlie Corless was also good.

In the backfield for the Petrels, Maurer played his best game of the season, as did Campbell, White, Garlington, Kilgore, Walsh and Shepherd.

Campbell's punting was one of the features of the game. His punts averaged more than any game this year. Kilgore played his usual game, backing the line for substantial gains.

For Chattanooga, Viers and Smith were the best bets. Viers recovered four fumbles for his teammates. Smith was the best blocker of the game, as he was on the throwing end of most of the passes thrown by the Moccasins.

PITT DEFEATS Notre Dame Is Defeated By Nebraska Crew, 17 to 0

Pittsburgh, November 26.—(AP.) Riding rough-shod over the Penn State college eleven this afternoon the University of Pittsburgh gridgers closed their 1925 season with a dazzling 23-to-7 victory. State excelled in only one department—forward passing.

Pitt, with big Andy Gustafson in the star role, started the scoring early. A patch of mud, 30 yards from the State goal line, aided Pitt to make its first touchdown in the opening period. Roepke, in position for a punt, slipped in the mire, the ball striking him in the face. Salata, a Pitt guard, scooped it up and ran 25 yards for the score. Gustafson added the point. A moment later Welch, Pitt halfback, got around the State right end for 60 yards and Gustafson booted a 33-yard field goal.

Michalske, Weston, Luggren and Slamp then opened with State's most effective weapon. On a fake forward pass, Roepke ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Weston added the point.

Pitt scored again in the second period. Gaining the ball on punt, the State 40-yard line, Welch, Brown and Gustafson plunged the ball half way down the gridiron. Gustafson carried it over and also added the point.

Six points were added by Pitt in the third period. Unable to gain. State punted. It was Pitt's ball on their own nine-yard line. After several plunges by Harding, Gustafson shot a pass to Welch, who ran 85 yards for the score. Gustafson booted the point was wide. This ended the scoring.

FLORIDA HANDS W. AND L. FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON

Led by Ed Jones, 'Gators Stage Thrilling Comeback In Second Period of Game

Jacksonville, Fla., November 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Washington and Lee Generals made an unsuccessful invasion of 'Gatorland today and marched back to Virginia tonight with their claim to a tie for the southern conference title ripped to bits by the Florida Alligators. The score was 17 to 14. Captain Edgar Jones, of Florida, playing his last game for Florida, led his team to a startling victory, scoring all of his team's 17 points.

Trailing 7 to 3 at the half, the 'Gators ripped the line and overhauled their way to two touchdowns and victory. The 'Gators' last touchdown came a few minutes before the whistle ended the game when a nine-yard pass, Bishop to Jones, found the Florida captain with the ball in his arms across the goal line for the winning points.

Open Hostilities.—The 'Gators opened hostilities early in the first quarter. A fumbled punt by Stanley gave Florida the ball on Washington and Lee's 36-yard line. A pass, Jones to Brown, netted 11 yards. Three line plays netted eight yards and then Jones booted a perfect placement kick from the 20-yard line. Washington and Lee, recovering a fumbled punt on Florida's 35-yard line in the second quarter, carried the ball to Florida's two-yard line, but Captain Palmer dropped a forward pass over the goal line. After a series of short line bucks, Florida punted to Palmer on his own 40-yard line and he returned 10 yards. A pass, Wilson to Palmer, netted 20 yards. Wilson then passed first yards to Spotts, who raced across the goal line for a touchdown. Thomas kicked the goal for point after touchdown.

Thomas Kicks Goal.—An intercepted Florida pass early in the third quarter brought the Generals to Florida's 22-yard line and within striking distance again. The Generals rammed the ball over on a series of line plays and led 14 to 3, when Thomas kicked the goal from placement for the extra point.

With the ball in play on the Generals' 35-yard line, Captain Jones received a 17-yard pass from Burns and ran the remaining 21 yards through a broken field for the 'Gators' first touchdown. He kicked the goal for the extra point. The 'Gators checked the Generals' attack early in the fourth quarter and forced the play into the Virginia territory. A 15-yard end run by Livingston, a sub-

Bad Breaks of Football Mingled With Good Luck

Following is the fifteenth article of a series that tells the story of the life of Captain Red Grange, of Illinois, acclaimed as the greatest gridiron runner in the world. It is written from interviews with Grange by James Braden, and is Grange's life story.

BY JAMES BRADEN.
Former Yale and All-American Fullback.

"This is my real story. I have authorized it for publication"—Harold Grange.

(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

XV. FOOTBALL IS NO TEA PARTY.

If Red Grange was a football star before the game with Michigan last year he was doubly so after Michigan's debacle in that game. When the big Iowa team came to Champaign the next Saturday everything was set to stop the phantom halfback. Grange, however, was unperturbed as the Iowa contest started.

"It was very windy that day and we were fearful of some sort of a break against us," Red said recently. "The play of the Iowa ends was always been so effective that it is almost impossible to run around them. They will retreat and do anything to keep the ball carrier inside. Illinois did not attempt to run ends in that game. Advances came by off-tackle plays and my first touchdown was along that same route. It was for about 20 yards and the second was almost a duplicate of the first."

Prospect Rosy.

With Iowa out of the way, the prospect appeared rosy for a victory over Chicago and a saunter to the conference championship. Yet Zupke knew that his line was not of the best and he was worried lest some opponent should discover that detail. Stagg had immediately seen the team's weakness and had set his plans to surprise the wily Zupke.

The result caused Red Grange some tremendous efforts on the gridiron. "That Chicago game was the hardest afternoon's work I've ever done, and at the end I hardly knew whether I was coming or going," Red laughingly said in telling of the plays. "We kicked off to Chicago and the steam roller started. The Maroons scored and we kicked to them again. The same process of rolling through us right down the field for a touchdown was put on, and the score was 14 to 0 in favor of Chicago, with the first quarter not yet over. We hadn't even had the ball in our possession."

"Chicago kicked off to us next and we started an offensive. The ball was advanced to the Chicago 20-yard line by end runs and passes. I got loose on a wide end sweep for the first touchdown. The Illinois interference was working well and the whole team played wonderful football to get that first tally over. It was certainly hard work running against Chicago. The Maroons scored another touchdown by the same driving line attack and Illinois also got another before the first half ended. Thus the score at the half was 21 to 14 in favor of Chicago."

His Most Remarkable Run.—Illinois came on the field in desperation in the second half of the game. A season's work, the conference championship, and all the prestige of a hitherto marvelous season were at stake. In the third quarter Grange broke loose for the tying score and what was, perhaps, his most remarkable run of the season. "We had the ball on the Illinois 20 or 25-yard line and an off-tackle play was called to our left side," he said. "I took the ball and the boys in front opened things up pretty well. I cut back toward the center of the field and met several tacklers who either slipped off me or overran. It was tough going down the field. Finally I got over the line. I shall always remember that 80 yards."

Although tied by Chicago, Grange was still riding the wave as the great touchdown maker and so all eyes were focused upon the Minnesota game. In the first quarter Grange wriggled loose at his own left end for 30 yards and a touchdown. He was badly hurt shortly after, and had to be removed from the game. When someone asked him if he had been treated too roughly by Minnesota he replied: "Football is no tea party, and the breaks of the game have been kind to me. Today I was unfortunate. Minnesota was not unduly rough."

ter, and two more around left end, Driscoll again punted away from Grange, out of bounds, on the Bears' 42-yard line.

Brennan broke through and spilled Joe Sternaman for a five-yard loss. Grange attempted a forward pass to Walquist but the Cardinals spoiled it. On another forward pass formation, Grange made two yards just as the gun sounded for the end of the game, with the ball on the Bears' 38-yard line. The crowd by thousands swarmed out on the field, surrounding Grange, but six policemen rescued him and carried him to the dugout.

LAVONIA TIES WASHINGTON HI

Washington, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—Washington and Lavonia battled to a 7-to-7 tie on the local field this afternoon in the high school football classic of the season for northeast Georgia. Evenly matched as to weight and playing skill, neither team was able to score in the first two quarters.

By superior aerial attack the visitors rallied in the third quarter, scoring the first touchdown and goal. The work of Verner at halfback, McDaniel at tackle, and Adair at center was the outstanding feature of Captain Morgan's Lavonia bunch. Captain Jackson for Washington played the entire game with a broken thumb received in a practice scrimmage earlier in the week, and was responsible for Washington's seven-point score in the last quarter.

FLIERS BEATEN BY MARINES

Thomasville, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—Before the largest crowd ever witnessing a football contest here, the Pensacola Naval Aviators went down to defeat against the Paris Island Marines this afternoon, by a score of 13 to 7. The Fliers scored first. The Marines came back with a versatile attack led by Smith, the fastest man in the service.

Both teams battled fiercely and the tactics were the hardest ever seen here. They were well matched and fought hard for the service record of this section.

VIRGINIA TIES TARHEELS, 3 TO 3

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bunn Hackney is the hero at Chapel Hill tonight, for it was his toe that enabled North Carolina to come up on the level with the University of Virginia and tie the count at three-all when darkness was fast overtaking the game. It was the twenty-ninth battle between the two institutions, and not one of the 28 was more exciting than was the hard-fought scrap today.

Completely upsetting the dope which had given Carolina a big edge in the line and probably a bigger one in the backfield, Greasy Neale's Cavaliers started with the opening whistle and clearly outplayed Carolina in every department until a Tarheel drive in the final period placed them in position to tie the score.

Virginia went to the front in the second quarter when Charlie Macknill booted a beautiful placement over from the 35-yard mark, while those Virginians among the 18,000 who packed Emerson field to its capacity went wild. It was the largest crowd that ever witnessed a Virginia-Carolina battle, and no bigger day appears on any page of history of the Chapel Hill institution.

Much of what Virginia did today must be credited to Captain Carter Diffey, whose sweeps off tackle and around end featured. His last stand under the Orange and Blue banner, the Arkansas boy played one of his greatest games, both as a running back and as a field general. The day was ideal for football, and from the kickoff Virginia got her start. Four first downs were rung up during the first quarter, while the Tarheels failed to score a single first down. Off tackle plays contributed most of the Cavalier gains, and it was over the left side of the Tarheel front wall that most of these were registered, for Captain Melver and George Robinson were impenetrable. The second quarter saw both elevens make a single first down. Virginia added her five other first downs in the last half, Carolina making another with the help of a penalty.

EDDIE TRYON IS THROUGH WITH GRID

Providence, R. I., November 26. (AP)—"My final football game," declared Eddie Tryon, Colgate captain, as he doffed his gridiron togs at the conclusion of the Brown game here today.

"I wouldn't play professional football if they offered me $10,000 a game," was Tryon's reply to a question of a friend if he was considering any of the offers tendered him.

PULLEN LEADS COAST LEADERS MERCER GOLFERS ALMOST LOSE

Macon, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—Alfred Pullen, Summerville, Ga., has been elected president of the Golf club of Mercer university. Associated with him are Coach John M. King, vice president, and Julian J. Upshaw, Douglasville, secretary.

The members of the Golf club include those students of the university who are interested in the sport, and several faculty members. An nine-hole course is now being installed at the college at the rear of the new Centennial stadium. After its completion it will be the only course in Macon with the exception of that of the Idle Hour Country club.

Seattle, Wash., November 26.—The University of Washington's coast conference football crown wobbled Thursday afternoon and nearly toppled in the mud when Oregon assaulted the Huskies.

As it was, a timely place kick in the last quarter saved the coast leaders from defeat, the game finally ending in Washington's favor, 15 to 14.

TECH AND AUBURN TIGERS BATTLE TO 7-TO-7 TIE

Wycoff Scores in Third Period, But Blocked Punt Enables Green To Score

heaves. Tech was baffled, outplayed, and Auburn, with a sketchy, spotty conference record, tied the match in the forward seven of the Auburn team. The Williams, known as a wily quarterback, was outfigured by Bogue and Tuxworth. Pen Green was the equal of the speedy, shifty Barron, and Captain Wycoff met his match in Buckshot Williams, as deadly a tackler and as certain a play smearer as has worked out for Grant field patrons this season. About 17,000 people saw this spectacle where Tech men stepped off yardage and yardage for 18 first downs, and were tied by the quick wits and inspired play of the outfit that made its 10 yards just six times.

Tech's powerful line, known for the way it tore through Penn State and lesser defenses, found its match in the forward seven of the Auburn team. The Williams, known as a wily quarterback, was outfigured by Bogue and Tuxworth. Pen Green was the equal of the speedy, shifty Barron, and Captain Wycoff met his match in Buckshot Williams, as deadly a tackler and as certain a play smearer as has worked out for Grant field patrons this season. About 17,000 people saw this spectacle where Tech men stepped off yardage and yardage for 18 first downs, and were tied by the quick wits and inspired play of the outfit that made its 10 yards just six times.

Marshall and Merkle and Irwin, Tech's ends did not a whit less in Thursday's game than they have been doing all season, but opposing them were Ollinger and Spinks, who showed themselves to be two of the outstanding flankmen in the south. Spinks had to be disposed of in almost every play Tech made, and more frequently he was not disposed. Ollinger, who was a star of only a trifle less brilliance than Spinks, rose to supreme heights when his quick wit recovered the ball for Auburn on Tech's 35-yard line, after Wycoff's punt had been blocked by Captain Harkins of Auburn. The ball kicked brushed Dick Wright's shoe top. Ollinger, following the ball back into Tech territory, clamped down on it less than a second after it had touched the Tech man.

Tuxworth was sent in by Coach Morey to replace Bogue, the little quarterback whose generalship beat Vanderbilt 10 days ago. Auburn was penalized five yards for excessive time out, making it first down and 15 yards to make. Tuxworth called for a pass from Buckshot Williams to Greene. It was completed for 12 yards. On the next play Williams fumbled for six yards and first down.

Score on Passes.

Nineteen yards from Tech's goal line, Tuxworth ordered another pass. It was incomplete, but a second one.

from Williams to Tuxworth, brought the Tigers nine yards nearer the Tech goal. Hearn and Hood were sent in as tackles by Tech to strengthen a flagging line. Then Shotts, substitute fullback, catapulted himself into the center of Tech's line for the other yard and second first down. On the first play from the nine-yard tape, Tuxworth ordered the forward pass. He backed off, himself, and heaved to Green. Two Tech men dashed for Green, but he had smothered the ball and was over the line standing up.

Had Buckshot Williams' toe failed him when he attempted his placement kick for the extra point to tie Tech, the failure would have partially spoiled a remarkable story of indomitable will and splendid courage, but not one of the 17,000 people on the Grant field stadium would remember less vividly the sterling game of Buckshot Williams, Ollinger, Spinks and Tuxworth.

The romance of Auburn, coming from behind when the conference records said it should be a whipped team, overshadows just a bit the brilliance of the sweep of the Golden Tornado, but Captain Wycoff and his men have never played a better game this season. They swept the field for long gains and so much yardage, but they found themselves facing a stone wall and Buckshot Williams' deadly tackling in the pinches.

Tech's great drive for a touchdown in the third quarter after the Tornado had been on the verge of spilling over the Auburn goal line near the end of the first half, will be a thing of beauty for long years in the mental pictures the spectators will paint of the game.

Marshall Recovers Fumble.

Tech's march down the field started at a time that Auburn seemed to be gathering power. Auburn had just made a first down on a forward pass and Turner's plunge through center. Bogue called a forward pass, but Sam Murray knocked it down. On the next play, another forward pass, Bogue fumbled and Marshall threw himself on the ball, giving Tech the oval on Auburn's 38-yard line.

The first few plays were enough to show that Tech had determined to score and was mustering its full strength for the effort. Wycoff wheeled around right end for five yards. Self, of Auburn, stopped Barron for no gain on his dive through left guard, but again Barron took the ball and got four through center. Wycoff smashed through the line for

ALBANY BOWS TO LAGRANGE

LaGrange, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—LaGrange High school finished the season here this afternoon with a 61-to-13 victory over Albany High. By virtue of this afternoon's victory LaGrange finished the season undefeated, having defeated 10 high schools and have only had four touchdowns scored on them. Although the score was one-sided, Albany presented the best team that has appeared on the local field this season, having a well perfected air attack that caused the locals no small amount of trouble. Albright, playing his last game in a LaGrange uniform, was the outstanding star with long runs and a 75-yard return of a punt for a touchdown. His playing has been consistent for the past two seasons. Bolden, local fullback, tore and plunged at the opposing line for long gains and scored five of LaGrange's touchdowns. Estes also played an excellent game for the locals. Captain Cassidy, Barrett and Daniel were the outstanding stars in the local line.

Holt was the visitors' star, throwing passes with great accuracy. His defensive playing also stood out. Gussick in the line played a great game, breaking through and throwing local backs for losses. He also was on the receiving end of the visitors' air attack.

LaGrange made 27 first downs to Albany's seven. Two thousand people witnessed the game, the largest crowd of the season.

V. P. I. DEFEATS V. M. I., 7 TO 0

Roanoke, Va., November 26.—(AP.) V. P. I. defeated Virginia Military Institute 7 to 0 in the annual Thanksgiving day classic between the two institutions here today. The Gobblers scored in the second period and were able to hold the advantage when Holly and De La Barre each intercepted a pass by White to check a desperate overhead attack by the Flying Squadron in the second half.

Three yards for first down. Buckshot Williams stopped Barron with a one-yard gain at left tackle, but Sam Murray hit guard for five yards and Wycoff crashed through center for another five, placing the ball on Auburn's 15-yard line.

Sam Murray then shot a forward pass to Wycoff, but the Tech captain was chased out of bounds with a seven-yard gain by his nemesis, Buckshot Williams. However, Sam Murray, in two plunges made first down and placed the ball on the Tiger four-yard stripe. Barron tried it first, getting just one yard. The stands called for Wycoff to carry the ball and so did the Williams. Wycoff took the ball far back of the line of scrimmage, raced out to the right and then rounded into a gallop toward the goal. Buckshot Williams was at Wycoff's left, but Wycoff straight-armed him and went, clear of Auburn men, over the Auburn line.

Just as failure of Buckshot Williams to kick goal after Auburn's touchdown would have spoiled the yarn, so would a failure of the Williams' boot, carrying defeat for Tech, have ruined a tale of football valor. Tech battled, and battled furiously to win, especially in the last quarter, when substitute after substitute was rushed into the lineup, but Auburn, having come from behind and tied Tech, was too strong to beat.

Passes Effective.

A short, snappy forward pass was Auburn's greatest weapon. Auburn has not used this pass effectively before this season, although it helped a bit in the Tigers' 10-to-9 victory over Vanderbilt. The Auburn backs were unable to get yardage through the line or around ends.

The line game was Tech's best. Frequently Barron and Wycoff got through for dashes that made them a dire menace to the Auburn cause an offensive figures. Tech tried six forward passes and completed only two, for a gain of 23 yards. Against this Auburn tried 17 passes and completed seven of them for a gain of 71 yards. Two Auburn passes were intercepted. Only one Tech overhead heave fell into hostile hands.

While Tech made ten first downs in the first half against three for Auburn, Tech never threatened Auburn goal line, for the Tiger forward wall stiffened at a safe distance from the last white mark.

For a time in the first half it appeared that a field goal might decide the game. Then, toward the end of the second half, Tech strengthened its offensive and a touchdown was in the air. Ivan Williams, of Tech, tried three times during the first half for a goal from placement, but each time his kick was wide. He booted the oval from the 25-yard line and from the 23-yard marker twice during the half. Only once, at the end of the first quarter, did Auburn get in position to kick a field goal. Buckshot Williams tried a placement kick from the 31-yard line but it was wide.

Barron Dashes 26 Yards.

Just once in the second half did either side try for a field goal. With three minutes to play, Ivan Williams tried a placement kick from the 40-yard line, but the kick did not carry over the bar, although it was in line between the posts.

Barron got loose for the longest run of the game, a dash through tackle that brought Tech 28 yards. Barron did this sprint early in the first quarter. Shortly after this he got away for 12 yards through tackle and was followed by Wycoff, who stepped off 14 yards around right end. This run took the ball to Auburn's 15-yard line. Williams went into the game here for Newsome, who started at left halfback. Williams' power was felt at once by the Tech backs. Murray was held without gain, Barron was thrown for a two-yard loss and Williams knocked down a pass from Wycoff to Marshall. On fourth down, Williams made his first attempt at a placement kick.

Near the middle of the second quarter Wycoff got away for 18 yards, carrying the ball to Auburn's 17-yard line, where he was tackled by Green.

Wright was sent in for Barron, but was unable to gain. The first time he carried the ball, Williams threw him for a five-yard loss. On fourth down Ivan Williams tried his second placement kick.

Marshall Recovers Fumble.

Williams booted the third time after an exchange of punts and two first downs on short dashes by Wycoff, Wright and Barron had put the ball on Auburn's 25-yard line.

Shortly after the opening of the second half, Barron, back in the game, ripped off 20 yards through left tackle before Spinks' nailed him. Bogue's fumble and Marshall's recovery for Tech, paving the way for Tech's touchdown, came after half a dozen plays after Barron's 20-yard sprint.

Just before the end of the third quarter Tech, after Sam Murray had intercepted an Auburn forward pass, seemed to be on the way for another touchdown, but the ball went over to Auburn on its own 15-yard line when Murray fumbled and Spinks recovered.

The fourth quarter started with a lively exchange of punts, with Wycoff booting the oval 55 and 60 yards. The last of these punts was the one by Wycoff that Captain Harkins blocked and which was recovered by Spinks for Auburn's touchdown drive. Tech started another determined drive from the kickoff after Auburn's touchdown and after a remarkable dash of 20 yards by Wycoff on return of the kickoff, made four first downs in a row to carry the ball to Auburn's 16-yard line. Another touchdown was in sight, but it fumbled away when Wright fumbled and Ollinger recovered for Auburn. Green's punt out was short and Williams made his last try for a goal from placement. It was Tech's last effort to break the tie.

ALABAMA ROOPS TO VICTORY OVER GEORGIA, 27 TO 0

Tide, With Clean Slate, Bids for Second Crown Of Conference In Succession

The same medicine and closed out his football career with one of his greatest games.

Gillis registered the first Crimson counter in the first quarter after taking a 20-yard pass and running 30 more for the score. Hubert plowed the line for the other three markers, one of which was made possible by a magnificent 22-yard dash around his left end by Gillis which placed the leather on the Bulldog one-yard stripe.

The sturdy, steady Red Barnes and the scintillating streak of Crinson, Mack Brown, also came in for their share of the glory. Neither one was kept in the full time and their understudies, Caldwell and Jimmy Johnston, carried on in sterling fashion. But while Brown was the same speeding win on occasions, it was Grant Gillis, the Grove Hill terror, who stepped himself up to the rosy heights Thursday and climaxed a brilliant four-year career with a dazzling performance.

Down in the line, Alabama's two powerful guards, Jones and Buckner, were into every play. It was their last game and they starred every minute. But every bit as troublesome to Georgia as were the two Crimson veterans was Freddie Pickard, a giant sophomore tackle who gave a taste of what to expect from his next year. Pickard, perhaps, played the greatest game on either line, which is not saying much, but saying deservedly. The towering youth was rarely ever taken out of the play, was sniping the ball carrier often and accurately both on his side and the other.

Georgia substituted frequently and outstanding players were difficult to choose. But Nash, powerful end, and "Big Six" Luckie in the Bulldog line were the Georgia brilliant Thursday. Captain Snick Thompson turned in one of his usual steady games, but it was Luckie and Nash who dealt the most misery to the Alabama ball toters.

Backfield performers were trotted out in rapid succession, some three complete sets being inserted during the fray. Kain was by far the leading Georgia ground-gainer and saw more service than any of his mates. It was his slashing, swirling manliness that accounted for Georgia's one offensive flare and paved the way for the single Bulldog scoring chance. Morton, the diminutive halfback, Buster Kilpatrick and Scrapy Moore and Nelson were the other pliskin toters who now and then looked dangerous.

But, although Georgia made eight first downs, three of them came in the one big Bulldog rally in the late third and early fourth quarters, and three more in the final quarter, Alabama with a march that was stopped at mid-field just after the second half opened. Except for these two drives more the game was null and void. The other two first downs were isolated in the late part of the game.

The Tide scored in every quarter—one touchdown in each—Buckner missing the kick in the third marker. In the first five minutes—after Georgia had turned the Crimson back and punted out—Hubert in midfield passed to Gillis who scampered over a fumble by Moore of Georgia, and the subsequent recovery by Red Brown of Alabama on Georgia's 15-yard line opened the way for the second tally, Johnson bucking twice and Hubert three times for the intervening distance. A 22-yard sprint by Gillis and one buck by Hubert brought the third and a 43-yard march climaxed by three magnificent bucks by Hubert accounted for the last one. A fifth touchdown was looming as the game ended, Gillis running 12 yards to place the leather on the Georgia 4—and first down—as the final pistol cracked to end the game.

VANDY BEATS SEWANEE, 19 TO 7

Nashville, Tenn., November 26.—(AP) Vanderbilt averaged a 16-to-0 defeat of last year's classic by romping over the Sewanee Tiger today, 19 to 7.

Captain Gil Reese, of Vanderbilt, playing his last game, was the outstanding star, making several sensational dashes for his team.

Despite continuous downpours of rain during the morning, an attendance estimated at 18,000 turned out on the dreched Dudley stadium, with clearing skies, to witness the biggest game of the grid season here.

The traditional foot met in a sea of mud. Fumbles were frequent. Sewanee made the first score. That occurred in the second quarter when Mahoney, after fumbling the slippery ball, picked it up and ran for a touchdown for the Purple Tiger.

During the first quarter Vanderbilt kept the ball continuously in Sewanee territory. The Commodores opened up a driving attack in the third quarter, after a calm second period, by straight football and scored a touchdown when Hendrix bucked over from Sewanee's 1-yard line.

In the fourth quarter Captain Reese, who substituted for N. Waller, made Vanderbilt's second touchdown with a brilliant 33-yard run off tackle. This capped his climax.

Sewanee's final touchdown was made in the last few minutes of play, when Hendrix plowed through the Sewanee line for the one yard needed. Spence added the extra point after the touchdown, with a well-placed drop-kick.

DUVAL BEATS BOYS HIGH, 33 TO 0
Jacksonville, Fla., November 26.—(Special.)—Fighting hard and valiantly, the green and inexperienced Boys' High team, of Atlanta, was handed a 33-to-0 defeat by Duval High this morning in a forerunner to the annual Florida-W. & L. clash this afternoon.

The visiting Purple team was doped to lose by several touchdowns, but gave Duval a harder fight than the score indicates. The work of Jack McLeskey, captain and end of the Georgia team, was best for Boys' High, while Duval used its entire squad, all of them making a good showing.

There had been some question during the early part of the week as to a field on which to play the game. For a while it was thought that the game could not be played but Duval secured the field for this morning.

After witnessing the Florida-W. & L. clash Boys' High left tonight for Atlanta, where they will start their date preparations for their annual game with Tech High school next Tuesday.

ATHENS LOSES TO GAINESVILLE
Gainesville, Ga., November 26.—(Special.)—By swamping Athens High school, 34 to 0, here today, Gainesville completed its third successful football season without a defeat.

The Gainesville team had little trouble in winning from the visitors in today's feature Thanksgiving attraction to Gainesville citizens, piling up 21 first downs against five for Athens. Gainesville showed plenty of drive and fight throughout the game and Athens was practically helpless against the more powerful team.

One touchdown was scored in the first quarter, another in the second, and catching its breath between the halves, Gainesville came back and swept through Athens for 21 points in the third period, no scoring being done in the final quarter.

The first touchdown came in the first few minutes of play. Gainesville received the ball and started a march from its own 30-yard line that ended when Rothstein carried the ball over for a touchdown. Clark scored in the second quarter after a series of runs had put the ball in scoring position.

Edmondson started the scoring in the third quarter. Rothstein made another touchdown as did Clark. The game was featured by the long runs of Rothstein and Purvis, Purvis getting away once for 35 yards.

Smithies Lose Decision To Pine Bluff, 32 to 0

Pine Bluff, Ark., November 26.—(Special.)—Draped in the mantle of the Arkansas high school gridiron championship and backed by fully 4,000 spectators, the mighty Zebra of Pine Bluff High school, wading through a field of ankle-deep mud, laid a claim on the Dixie high school football title here this afternoon by an overwhelming defeat of the Tech High school of Atlanta.

The Striped Maul piled up a total of 32 points and held their struggling opponents scoreless.

It was a game where there were no stars. Neither team had any one outstanding player. True, while the spectacular plays were practically all performed by backfield men the interference of linemen, the charging of the tackles and the blocking of guards on the local machine was responsible for the victory.

With an attack of versatile charges that left the visiting aggregation guessing the locals started scoring early in the contest, securing their first touchdown in less than five minutes after play began.

MERCER LOSES, 30 TO 0, TO MARQUETTE

Milwaukee, Wis., November 26.—(AP)—Marquette university closed its 1926 football season here today by defeating Mercer university of Macon, Ga., in an intercollegiate game, 30 to 0.

The Golden Avalanche outplayed its southern opponent from start to finish. The greater weight of the Marquette players, aided by superior forward passing and ability to hit the line for substantial gains were factors in Marquette's victory.

Mercer only once had possession of the ball beyond mid-field. This was when two of the southerners threw successful forward passes, bringing the pigskin to the Marquette 30-yard line.

Marquette started cautiously and failed to score in the first period, but warmed up for an attack in the second period, resulting in annexing a score of ten, gained from a touchdown and a place-kick. The Golden Avalanche advanced the ball at will.

Mercer completed three out of eleven forward passes tried, while Marquette completed 19 out of 32. Marquette scored 20 first downs as compared with four for the southerners.

A gallant defense on the one-yard line on two occasions kept the local eleven from rolling up a much larger score. On other occasions the lighter Mercer outfit put up a strenuous defense in the face of certain defeat.

A huge crowd filled Marquette stadium, cheering its team as charge after charge drove Mercer back against their goal line. The stubborn defense of the Macon team also came in for cheering from the spectators.

Centenary Holds Tulane Greenies To 14-0 Victory

Shreveport, La., November 26.—(AP) Waging their strongest battle of the season, the Centenary Greenies let the mighty Green Wave of Tulane university down with two touchdowns and two points after touchdown here today in the closing game of the season that decided the championship of Louisiana. The score was 14 to 0, but in the early part of play, the locals outplayed the visitors and only fumbles and a bad pass for Centenary kept them down. The punting of Peggy Flournoy was the biggest handicap for the Gents and kept them with their backs against the wall.

After Tulane had made two unsuccessful attempts in the second half to plow through the Gents' line and had lost the ball on downs, they came back and by virtue of a five-yard penalty put over the first score. In the last half, Irish Levy recovered a fumble on the 30-yard line and, after a try at the line failed, Lautenschlager passed behind the goal to Wilson for six points. Flournoy scored two points with his kicking. Ten thousand persons saw the game.

OLE MISS WINS FROM MILLSAPS
Jackson, Miss., November 26.—(AP) After holding "Ole Miss" to a standstill during the first period, Millsaps broke today and the university eleven plunged through for a 21-to-0 victory. The Majors threatened several times on sensational runs by Crawford, but were unable to convert their chances into touchdowns.

Cohen, giant fullback for the university eleven, plunged through for nine yards at the beginning of the second quarter, being halted on the one-yard line. Martin took the ball over. Allen kicked goal.

Early in the third period Davis scored after a series of line plays that worked the ball to the goal line. Allen again dropped-kicked goal. After an exchange of punts Davis circled his left end for 40 yards and was downed on Millsaps' 10-yard line. A pass, Cohen to Mustin, scored a touchdown, Allen registering his third try for the extra point.

Alec Hurd, 58 Years Old, Captures Title
Alec Hurd, of Moor Park, England, won the Hertis golf championship ship on the West Herts course at Watford, England, recently, with a score of 141 for the 36 holes. For a man approaching his 58th year Hurd is considered a wonderful golfer. He has an amazing command of the ball, holding it up to the wind and letting it drift as occasion demands.

"Do You Guarantee these Bonds?"

INVESTORS who ask that question, I who insist upon their mortgage bonds being guaranteed by the House which offers them, will suffer few losses.

After all, why shouldn't the House of Issue guarantee its bonds? In other words, why should the investor take any more chances with his money than the Investment House with its money—especially since he must depend almost entirely upon the judgment of the Mortgage Bond House.

Adair Realty & Trust Company feels that every bond worthy of its recommendation is also worthy of its unconditional guarantee.

No better evidence of full faith can be offered than the fact that Adair Realty & Trust Company has placed its own capital and surplus behind each and every Adair Bond. The coupon will bring you full information.

Investors in Adair Guaranteed Bonds also have the option of having their bonds insured against loss by one of the strongest surety companies in America.

TENNESSEE FARMER
KILLS SON-IN-LAW
IN FAMILY ROW

Bristol, Va., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Godfrey Miller, 60 years old, farmer, is in jail at Blountsville, Tenn., today charged with killing his son-in-law, Offield Presnell, at Big Creek, about 10 miles north of here, yesterday afternoon.

Miller surrendered to the sheriff of Sullivan county soon after he said he killed his son-in-law in self-defense. The sheriff declared this morning, however, that as yet he has not learned what became of Presnell's body.

Miller told the authorities that he shot Presnell as the latter advanced on his family with a revolver. The load of buckshot entered the son-in-law as he came up on the porch of the Miller home, and he fell backward, and he fell face downward. The sheriff has gone to the scene to investigate.

The widow, Mrs. Margaret Earling, The Journal understands, will receive approximately $300,000, and George P. and Sherbourne M. sons, and Mrs. Hattie E. Fitch, daughter, to receive the remaining $600,000, equally divided among them.

The will, so far as The Journal has been able to learn, has not been filed at the Volusia county court in Daytona for probate. The understanding is it will be made public there tomorrow.
